GUARD PRESIDENT AS THOUGH WAR EXISTED

ACTION FOLLOWS THE REPORTS OF RADICAL VIOLENCE

PROTESTS VOICED AGAINST THE
ELECTROCUTION OF SACCO
AND VANZETTI

VIGILANCE OF SECRET SERVICE MEN HAS BEEN INCREASED

By PAUL R. MALLON

(United Press Staff Correspondent)

Rapid City, S. D., Aug. 6. — The president of the United States today was surrounded by a guard as heavy as that which protected the chief executive during the war, following reports of radical violence protesting against the electrocution of Sacco and Vanzetti.

When report was received from New York that subways had been bombed, presumably by sympathizers of the condemned anarchists, squads of sentries were enlarged to completely surround the president's summer home. Vigilance of secret service men was increased.

Since Governor Fuller of Massachusetts issued his decision Thursday holding the two must die for the double murder committed during a holdup at South Braintree, Mass., secret service men have been told to employ unusual precautions and a detail of fifty soldiers from Fort Meade, South Dakota, guarding the lodge, have been ordered to challenge anyone approaching the building.

The United Press learned that more than one hundred telegrams were received by the president since Fuller's announcement, most of them pleading that he remit the sentences of Sacco and Vanzetti, who contend they are being persecuted for their radical views.

During the trip to Deadwood Saturday some demonstration had been anticipated and unusual precautions were taken to prevent it.

Deadwood is a mining town where various nationalities are represented but fears were groundless although cavalry and fully armed secret service men stationed themselves more closely to the president than they have in recent months.

The increased guard of the president was merely of precautionary measure. It is not believed attempt will be made to do bodily harm to Mr. Coolidge, but the guards have also been ordered to prevent even a demonstration if possible.

Mr. Coolidge has had nothing to do with the Sacco and Vanzetti case. His policy has always been to uphold the courts in matters of law and order and those who know his policies do not believe that he would desire to overthrow the opinion of a jury and governor in this particular case.

Mr. Coolidge himself manifested no indication that an unusual situation existed. He did not prepare to go to the executive offices 32 miles away this morning, but it is customary for him to take a holiday on Saturdays during his vacation.

(by United Press)

A shoe factory worker and a fish peddler must die in Massachusetts for murder and so violent have become the protests of those who think the sentence a political one that today, less than a week before the scheduled electrocution, nervousness spread through the cities of the world.

In the last 24 hours a church in Philadelphia, the mayor's home in Baltimore and two subway stations in New York have been bombed, presumably in protest.

Nicola Sacco and Bartolomeo Vanzetti, born to obscurity, are approaching the electric chair in a peak of prominence. On the one hand the authorities argue that they are guilty of slaying a paymaster and his guard, on the other their sympathizers claim they are being persecuted for radical beliefs.

The controversy has continued for seven years but now, with only the faint hope of legal recourse to forestall execution of the sentence of death, a series of bombings, threatening letters and angry murmurings has put police in the larger centers of civilization on guard.

Only by co-incidence can recent anti-social developments be attributed to feeling in behalf of Sacco and Vanzetti but the links of time

OUR DAILY QUAKE REPORT— NORTHEAST JAPAN

Tokio, Aug. 6.—(UP)—A sharp earthquake occurred here today and it was reported that many sections of northeastern Japan felt the tremors.

Communications were interrupted temporarily and many persons rushed to the open in anticipation of heavier shocks, but no casualties were reported. The quake occurred at 6:15 a. m.

BOMBINGS IN N. Y. WRECK TWO SUBWAY STATIONS

POLICE COMMISSIONER WARREN RECALLS ALL POLICEMEN
ON VACATIONS

BOMBS EXPLODED WITHIN TEN MINUTES OF EACH OTHER,
SCORE INJURED

New York, Aug. 6.—(UP)—Police Commissioner Warren today recalled all policemen on vacations, cancelled vacations about to begin, and kept all reserves on duty to guard against a recurrence of the bombings which last night partially wrecked two subway stations, injuring a score or more people, two seriously.

The bombs exploded within ten minutes of each other, in the 28th street stations of the Interborough Rapid Transit and the Brooklyn Manhattan Transit lines.

The explosions occurred in midtown Manhattan during the after-theater rush hour. The first was at 11:15 P. M., in the lavatory of the B. M. T. station at 28th street and Broadway. The second, at 11:26 P. M., was at the southern end of the I. R. T. station at 28th street and Fourth Avenue.

Fourteen persons were taken to the hospitals. All but two returned to their homes after treatments.

Police believed the bombs had been placed in protest against the death sentence pronounced on Nicola Sacco and Bartolomeo Vanzetti which is to be executed Aug. 10.

No arrests had been made thus far but Anthony Savino, 35, who was seriously injured, will be questioned further when he regains consciousness again. He was found on the platform of the B. M. T. station near the lavatory.

Savino recovered consciousness for a moment shortly after he was brought to the New York hospital. Questioned, he said, he had been standing outside the lavatory but had seen no one enter or leave it. He explained his presence on the platform to Assistant District Attorney William P. Ryan and Inspector John D. Coughlin, chief of detectives, by saying he had just missed a train and was waiting for another.

Helen Phelan, of Brooklyn, ticket agent at the B. M. T., was at first reported in a serious condition but she left the Bellevue hospital after treatment, as did 11 others brought there.

Peter Males, 36, a restaurant employee, was reported shot by police when he tried to escape capture after stealing shirts and neckties from a store whose window had been broken by the blast.

Store windows along Broadway, Fourth Avenue and side streets between 27th and 31st streets, were shattered by the detonations.

are so close that inference is strong. Here was the situation in various cities today:

New York—the nation's metropolis—was more closely guarded than at any time since the war following the bombing of two subway stations. The infernal machines detonated with force, injuring more than a score of persons, two seriously, and tying up transit facilities for an hour. The blast was felt for blocks, sidewalks were torn up and windows cracked.

Police reserves were called out for duty and members recalled from vacations. Every subway entrance and exit were watched, tunnels patrolled and bridges guarded.

An Assistant Secretary of State Is Now Ranking Official in the Nation's Capital

FIGURATIVELY IS HEAD OF THE GOVERNMENT

HE IS WILLIAM R. CASTLE, JR., OF WESTERN EUROPEAN DIVISION

STEPS INTO RANK BECAUSE
EVERY CABINET MEMBER IS ABSENT

Washington, Aug. 6.—(UP)—An assistant secretary of state, one of those men who stay out of the picture here usually, today became ranking official in the capital, and figuratively head of the government in Washington.

He is William R. Castle, Jr., aged 49, for many years head of the Western European division of the state department. He steps into the rank because every cabinet member is away from the capital, and probably will be for a few days.

Rank begins with the state department. Assistant Secretary of State Robert E. Olds, who is next to Secretary of State Kellogg, left the capital today for Europe, and the honor fell to Castle.

The last of the cabinet members left last night, when Secretary of State Kellogg took a train for Buffalo and Secretary of Navy Willard began a westward trip to Rapid City where he will call on President Coolidge and discuss the breakup of the Geneva arms conference.

Secretary of the Treasury Meller and Secretary of War Davis are in Europe. Attorney General Sargent is in Vermont. Postmaster General New and Secretary of Agriculture Jardine are in Michigan. Secretary of Labor Davis is in Philadelphia; Secretary of Interior Work is travelling in the west, and Sec. of Commerce Hoover is in California.

GEN. LEONARD WOOD UNDER TREATMENT AT HOSPITAL

Boston, Mass., Aug. 6.—(UP)—General Leonard Wood, governor of the Philippines, is under treatment at Peter Bent Brigham hospital here.

Hospital authorities admitted today that the general was a patient at the institution but refused to reveal the nature of his illness.

"General Wood is a patient here. We are not in a position at this time to discuss his condition. A bulletin may be issued later today," hospital officials said.

O. P. B. JACOBSON RETURNS FROM NORWAY

St. Paul, Aug. 6.—(UP)—O. P. B. Jacobson, chairman of the state railroad and warehouse commission returned to his office at the state capital today after an absence of about two months. He recently completed a trip to Norway for his health and said today he "never felt better."

LEVINE AND MECHANIC NEAR BLOWS IN FRANCE

Le Bourget Field, France, Aug. 6.—(UP)—Charles A. Levine and the French mechanic Mathis who has been assisting Pilot Maurice Drouhin in preparing the monoplane Columbia for another trans-Atlantic flight almost came to blows during an argument today.

Levine arrived to superintend the removal of an extra motor and propeller which Drouhin insisted might be needed. An argument ensued and the capitalist and the mechanic were about to fight when Levine's business agent separated them.

Drouhin succeeded in keeping the motor and the propeller in the hangar.

BARGE TRAFFIC INSTITUTED ON MISSISSIPPI

St. Louis, Mo., Aug. 6.—(UP)—Barge traffic on the Mississippi river between St. Louis and the Twin Cities will be instituted today when the S. S. Thorpe leaves the docks here with three towboats of cargo on the journey north.

COOLIDGE CLEARS WAY IN POLITICS OF REPUBLICANS

PAVES WAY FOR AN OPEN CON-TEST FOR PRESIDENTIAL NOMINATION

WILL NOT PERMIT HIS NAME TO BE PRESENTED TO NATIONAL CONVENTION

By PAUL R. MALLON

(United Press Staff Correspondent)

Rapid City, S. D., Aug. 6.—President Coolidge, in the belief of observers, today had completely cleared the way for an open contest for the republican presidential nomination next summer.

He left it be known in a conference with the press that he intends to retire when his present term expires March 4, 1929. His manner of making the statement, although he refused to amplify his previous announcement, removed any suspicion that his "I do not choose to be a candidate in 1928" carried qualifications.

It is understood beyond all question here, that Mr. Coolidge under no circumstances will permit his name to be presented to the national convention. There had been some speculation to the effect the word "choose" in the statement might indicate the president would consent to be "drafted" as his party's leader for another term.

The president, further, was expected to retire from public life completely a year from next March, at least for several months immediately after he leaves office. He will probably go to his Vermont farm for a rest from the strenuous duties of office and then enter some line of private business or resume his law practice.

Mr. Coolidge's decision to forego another four-year term was believed based both on the fact he feels the strain of his work and he respects the American tradition of limiting the tenure of one president to eight years.

At his press conference yesterday, the president made known he does not plan to call a new disarmament conference early in 1929, as reported. There would be insufficient time, it was pointed out, to perfect the details of a conference between the first of the year and the expiration of his term in office.

As to the recent tri-partite conference at Geneva which adjourned without fulfilling its purpose, the president will not comment on it until he is more fully informed on the situation by Secretary of State Kellogg and Ambassador Hugh Gibson, head of the American delegation.

DEMPSEY SETTLES $30,000 SUIT FOR $10,000

New York, Aug. 6.—(UP)—A suit to recover $30,000 for legal services rendered Jack Dempsey by Raymond J. Cannon, Milwaukee, Wis., attorney, has been settled out of court for $10,000, it was reported to the New York supreme court today. With the agreement that the court assure him payment of the sum, Cannon discontinued action.

Dempsey acted through his New York lawyers, O'Brien, Malevinsky, and Driscoll.

CARRY FIGHT TO STATE COURTS TO SAVE TWO MEN

FORMER FOR 6 YEARS REJECTED
NEW TRIAL APPEALS OF
SACCO, VANZETTI

ARTHUR D. HILL, NEW CHIEF
DEFENSE COUNSEL, TO MAKE PLEA

By HENRY MINOTT

(United Press Staff Correspondent)

Boston, Aug. 6. — Carrying the fight to save Sacco and Vanzetti back to the state courts which for six years have rejected every appeal for a new trial, Arthur D. Hill, the new chief defense counsel, was to appear this morning in the superior court at Dedham to file a motion for a new trial based on alleged new evidence.

This move was to have been made yesterday but the new defense counsel spent the day instead in conference with Francis B. Sayre, a son-in-law of President Wilson, and laying plans for the last minute defense of the two men scheduled to die next Thursday morning.

Hill also planned to see Governor Fuller to ask for a further respite so that time may be had for consideration of his new appeal for a new trial.

Boston, Aug. 6.—Intricate legal machinery was whirled into motion today as a last desperate hope of saving Nicola Sacco and Bartolomeo Vanzetti from death in the electric chair five days hence.

Strangely enough this eleventh-hour battle carries the world famous case back to the little court house in suburban Dedham, where, on July 14, 1921, a jury decided that the two radicals had brutally slain a paymaster and his guard during a hold-up.

At Dedham, shortly before noon today, Attorney Michael Angelo Mussmanno, who has been working on the case with the defense committee, filed a motion with the clerk of court asking that Sacco and Vanzetti be granted a new trial.

Almost simultaneously, at the state house here, Attorney Herbert B. Ehrmann, former associate defense counsel, presented Herman McDonald, secretary to Governor Alvan T. Fuller, with a petition requesting another respite for the condemned men.

Suffolk county superior court was the scene of another move in the defense campaign when a petition was filed today for a writ of habeas corpus.

The respite petition was presented at the governor's office, and bore the signature of Atty. Arthur D. Hill, new chief counsel for Sacco and Vanzetti. It asked that a stay of execution be ordered for a "reasonable time" to enable the defense to prosecute the legal proceedings started today.

JAILED FOR HIS CRITICISM OF SUPREME COURT

Indianapolis, Ind., Aug. 6.—(UP)—Dr. Edgar S. Shumaker, superintendent of the Indiana Anti-Saloon league, today was sentenced to 60 days on the state prison farm for criticizing the Indiana supreme court.

Jesse B. Martin, attorney for the league, found guilty of contempt in the same decision late Friday, was not in court and penalty was not pronounced on him.

Dr. Shumaker also was fined $250 and was reprimanded for his adverse criticism of the court. Execution of the sentence will be delayed. A motion for arrest of the sentence was filed and Dr. Shumaker was to be released on bond pending hearing on the motion Aug. 18.

CAR CRASHES INTO BRIDGE; ONE MAN KILLED

Winona, Minn., Aug. 6.—(UP)—Harold Cammel, 24, St. Paul, was instantly killed and two co-workers escaped uninjured when their automobile left the road near here last night and crashed into a bridge.

Oscar Rarho of Walen, Minn., and John Linsted, St. Paul, were in the automobile when the accident occurred. They were not hurt.

The men were employed on highway No. 9 construction work between Lanesboro and Walen.

MUSSOLINI TO TAKE NO ACTION IN NOTED CASE

GOVERNMENT OFFICIAL SPOKES-
MAN, REFERRING TO SACCO
AND VANZETTI

ITALIAN NEWSPAPER HOWEVER
DENOUNCES GOV. FULLER'S
DECISION

By THOMAS B. MORGAN

(United Press Staff Correspondent)

Rome, Aug. 6.—Premier Mussolini will not take any formal action in the Sacco-Vanzetti case, a government official informed the United Press, but his newspaper, Il Popolo d'Italia, led fascist newspapers today in denouncing Governor Fuller's decision.

"The Italian government can do absolutely nothing in the case," the official told the correspondent. "The trial of Sacco and Vanzetti was an American internal question in which Italy cannot interfere. No statement of the Italian government's position will be made."

Until the statement was made thousands of Italians hoped Mussolini would appeal to President Coolidge or Massachusetts authorities to commute the death sentence of the two Italian laborers.

"The decision fills the world with doubt and grief," Mussolini's paper said. "The fact that for seven years Sacco and Vanzetti have been between life and death, with a sword of Damocles above their heads, was sufficient explanation of whatever may have been held against them."

"They were dying a little each day. The sentence to the electric chair is but the last cowardly act in the turbulent atmosphere in which their trial was conducted."

"America has administered the justice of liberty, supreme among the goddesses, which cannot and must not be discussed. But putting aside justice and liberty, we believe an act of clemency never would have been more opportune, more justified, or wiser than in the present case."

Their silence ended by the comment in Mussolini's organ, other leading fascist newspapers spoke in the same tone.

The Corriere Della Sear, published at Milan, was even more bitter. "One hesitates to say that this is the last word," said the Milan paper which has the largest circulation in Italy. "It is not for us to say that Sacco and Vanzetti are innocent, but we can say that justice for these two unfortunates has been undue and cruel."

"Even in the most barbarous times when the rope which was designed to strangle broke, people called mercy and mercy was given."

"For six years death was their company in prison. For six years death sought to seize them, and for six years it failed. There is no penal code in existence which threatens the death penalty after six years of waiting, six years of atrocious suffering. This is no longer a mere abnormality; it is more, it is a monstrosity."

"This case has ceased to be a criminal case for the state of Massachusetts. It is anguish for the entire world."

"For six years the world watched the dying moments of two men, the world heard their cries."

"They tasted a thousand deaths."

NAVY DEPT. ANNOUNCES ITS PLANS

CREATION OF NAVAL RESERVE
ON PRIVATE AMERICAN
MERCHANT VESSELS

CREWS TO BE TRAINED IN NA-VAL MANEUVERS TO MAN
ARMED SHIPS

Washington, Aug. 6. — (UP) —

Echoes of the Geneva arms conference failure, official, unofficial and semi-official, continued here today.

The navy department announced details of its plans for creation of a naval reserve on private American merchant vessels, whereby crews will be trained in naval maneuvers so they can man armed merchant vessels. This was considered significant, coming so closely after the Geneva collapse.

The Army and Navy Journal declared in an editorial that the United States did not intend to traverse the seas "only with the consent of Great Britain."

The Peoples Reconstruction League on the other hand, hinted in a statement that large American corporations had helped to make the conference a failure, asking "Shall Profiteers Force Another War?"

While the naval reserve movement was authorized at the last congress, no funds were appropriated, and the announcement of plans now is linked up with the effort of Great Britain in the conference to fix a six-inch limit on guns, which was interpreted as indicating her intention to equip her merchant vessels with six inch guns. The United States sought a limit of eight-inch guns, which are too heavy for merchant ships.

The department has instructed naval district commanders to confer with owners and operators of American vessels to obtain their cooperation in organizing the new service. An effort will be made to establish it first on vessels operating from New York and San Francisco. Masters of crews will receive a course of instructions on naval tactics for their crews.

"Boiled down to essentials," the Army and Navy Journal editorial said, "Great Britain has served notice she will never surrender the supremacy of the seas and that she will not permit equality. We call on the nation to direct congress to provide a navy which will make the United States dominant afloat as it would have been but for the Washington conference."

The Peoples Reconstruction League said the "public announcement of the proposed co-operation" of the Dupont interests, United States Steel and General Motors "followed the evident failure of the disarmament conference."

"They have a highly profitable community of interest in naval competition and in wars to follow," said the League.

EDUCATOR SHOTS AND KILLS HIMSELF

Birmingham, Ala., Aug. 6.—(UP)—J. A. Reams, 47, assistant principal of a high school here, shot and killed himself today. The bullet from a small calibre gun passed through his head and lodged in the cheek of his wife. She said the shooting was entirely accidental.

slowly. The punishment was more severe than death itself.

"We do not speak of the injustice of the sentence, although the governor of Massachusetts has coldly, proudly kept to himself his findings, not understanding that it is now not enough for him to seek his own peace of mind. It is necessary for the peace of mind of others that he confirm their guilt, show evidence, publish proofs, then issue the fatal order, praying God to help him bear the weight of his heavy burden to the end."

CONVENTION

By PAUL R. MALLON

Rapid City, S. D., Aug. 6.—President Coolidge, in the belief of observers, today had completely cleared the way for an open contest for the republican presidential nomination next summer.

He left it be known in a conference with the press that he intends to retire when his present term expires March 4, 1929. His manner of making the statement, although he refused to amplify his previous announcement, removed any suspicion that his "I do not choose to be a candidate in 1928" carried qualifications.

It is understood beyond all question here, that Mr. Coolidge under no circumstances will permit his name to be presented to the national convention. There had been some speculation to the effect the word "choose" in the statement might indicate the president would consent to be "drafted" as his party's leader for another term.

He will probably go to his Vermont farm for a rest from the strenuous duties of office and then enter some line of private business or resume his law practice.

Mr. Coolidge's decision to forego another four-year term was believed based both on the fact he feels the strain of his work and he respects the American tradition of limiting the tenure of one president to eight years.

At his press conference yesterday, the president made known he does not plan to call a new disarmament conference early in 1929, as reported. There would be insufficient time, it was pointed out, to perfect the details of a conference between the first of the year and the expiration of his term in office.

As to the recent tri-partite conference at Geneva which adjourned without fulfilling its purpose, the president will not comment on it until he is more fully informed on the situation by Secretary of State Kellogg and Ambassador Hugh Gibson, head of the American delegation.

CARRY FIGHT TO STATE COURTS TO SAVE TWO MEN

NEW TRIAL APPEALS OF
SACCO, VANZETTI

ARTHUR D. HILL, NEW CHIEF
DEFENSE COUNSEL, TO MAKE PLEA

By HENRY MINOTT

(United Press Staff Correspondent)

Boston, Aug. 6.—Carrying the fight to save Sacco and Vanzetti back to the state courts which for six years have rejected every appeal for a new trial, Arthur D. Hill, the new chief defense counsel, was to appear this morning in the superior court at Dedham to file a motion for a new trial based on alleged new evidence.

This move was to have been made yesterday but the new defense counsel spent the day instead in conference with Francis B. Sayre, a son-in-law of President Wilson, and laying plans for the last minute defense of the two men scheduled to die next Thursday morning.

Hill also planned to see Governor Fuller to ask for a further respite so that time may be had for consideration of his new appeal for a new trial.

Boston, Aug. 6.—Intricate legal machinery was whirled into motion today as a last desperate hope of saving Nicola Sacco and Bartolomeo Vanzetti from death in the electric chair five days hence.

Strangely enough this eleventh-hour battle carries the world famous case back to the little court house in suburban Dedham, where, on July 14, 1921, a jury decided that the two radicals had brutally slain a paymaster and his guard during a hold-up.

At Dedham, shortly before noon today, Attorney Michael Angelo Mussmanno, who has been working on the case with the defense committee, filed a motion with the clerk of court asking that Sacco and Vanzetti be granted a new trial.

Almost simultaneously, at the state house here, Attorney Herbert B. Ehrmann, former associate defense counsel, presented Herman McDonald, secretary to Governor Alvan T. Fuller, with a petition requesting another respite for the condemned men.

Suffolk county superior court was the scene of another move in the defense campaign when a petition was filed today for a writ of habeas corpus.

The respite petition was presented at the governor's office, and bore the signature of Atty. Arthur D. Hill, new chief counsel for Sacco and Vanzetti. It asked that a stay of execution be ordered for a "reasonable time" to enable the defense to prosecute the legal proceedings started today.

JAILED FOR HIS CRITICISM OF SUPREME COURT

Indianapolis, Ind., Aug. 6.—(UP)—Dr. Edgar S. Shumaker, superintendent of the Indiana Anti-Saloon league, today was sentenced to 60 days on the state prison farm for criticizing the Indiana supreme court.

Jesse B. Martin, attorney for the league, found guilty of contempt in the same decision late Friday, was not in court and penalty was not pronounced on him.

Dr. Shumaker also was fined $250 and was reprimanded for his adverse criticism of the court.

Execution of the sentence will be delayed. A motion for arrest of the sentence was filed and Dr. Shumaker was to be released on bond pending hearing on the motion Aug. 18.

CAR CRASHES INTO BRIDGE; ONE MAN KILLED

Winona, Minn., Aug. 6.—(UP)—Harold Cammel, 24, St. Paul, was instantly killed and two co-workers escaped uninjured when their automobile left the road near here last night and crashed into a bridge.

Oscar Rarbo of Wadena, Minn., and John Linsted, St. Paul, were in the automobile when the accident occurred. They were not hurt.

The men were employed on highway No. 9 construction work between Lanesboro and Wadena.

MUSSOLINI TO TAKE NO ACTION IN NOTED CASE

GOVERNMENT OFFICIAL SPOKES-
MAN, REFERRING TO SACCO
AND VANZETTI

ITALIAN NEWSPAPER HOWEVER
DENOUNCES GOV. FULLER'S
DECISION

By THOMAS B. MORGAN

(United Press Staff Correspondent)

Rome, Aug. 6.—Premier Mussolini will not take any formal action in the Sacco-Vanzetti case, a government official informed the United Press, but his newspaper, Il Popolo D'Italia, led fascist newspapers today in denouncing Governor Fuller's decision.

"The Italian government can do absolutely nothing in the case," the official told the correspondent. "The trial of Sacco and Vanzetti was an American internal question in which Italy cannot interfere. No statement of the Italian government's position will be made."

Until the statement was made thousands of Italians hoped Mussolini would appeal to President Coolidge or Massachusetts authorities to commute the death sentence of the two Italian laborers.

"The decision fills the world with doubt and grief," Mussolini's paper said. "The fact that for seven years Sacco and Vanzetti have been between life and death, with a sword of Damocles above their heads, was sufficient explanation of whatever may have been held against them."

"They were dying a little each day. The sentence to the electric chair is but the last cowardly act in the turbulent atmosphere in which their trial was conducted."

"America has administered the justice of liberty, supreme among the goddesses, which cannot and must not be discussed. But putting aside justice and liberty, we believe an act of clemency never would have been more opportune, more justified, or wiser than in the present case."

Their silence ended by the comment in Mussolini's organ, other leading fascist newspapers spoke in the same tone.

The Corriere Della Sear, published at Milan, was even more bitter. "One hesitates to say that this is the last word," said the Milan paper which has the largest circulation in Italy. "It is not for us to say that Sacco and Vanzetti are innocent, but we can say that justice for these two unfortunates has been undue and cruel."

"Even in the most barbarous times when the rope which was designed to strangle broke, people called mercy and mercy was given."

"For six years death was their company in prison. For six years death sought to seize them, and for six years it failed. There is no penal code in existence which threatens the death penalty after six years of waiting, six years of atrocious suffering. This is no longer a mere abnormality; it is more, it is a monstrosity."

"This case has ceased to be a criminal case for the state of Massachusetts. It is anguish for the entire world."

"For six years the world watched the dying moments of two men, the world heard their cries."

"They tasted a thousand deaths."

NAVY DEPT. ANNOUNCES ITS PLANS

CREATION OF NAVAL RESERVE
ON PRIVATE AMERICAN
MERCHANT VESSELS

CREWS TO BE TRAINED IN NAV-AL MANEUVERS TO MAN
ARMED SHIPS

Washington, Aug. 6.—(UP)—Echoes of the Geneva arms conference failure, official, unofficial and semi-official, continued here today.

The navy department announced details of its plans for creation of a naval reserve on private American merchant vessels, whereby crews will be trained in naval maneuvers so they can man armed merchant vessels. This was considered significant, coming so closely after the Geneva collapse.

The Army and Navy Journal declared in an editorial that the United States did not intend to traverse the seas "only with the consent of Great Britain."

The Peoples Reconstruction League on the other hand, hinted in a statement that large American corporations had helped to make the conference a failure, asking "Shall Profiteers Force Another War?"

While the naval reserve movement was authorized at the last congress, no funds were appropriated, and the announcement of plans now is linked up with the effort of Great Britain in the conference to fix a six-inch limit on guns, which was interpreted as indicating her intention to equip her merchant vessels with six inch guns. The United States sought a limit of eight-inch guns, which are too heavy for merchant ships.

The department has instructed naval district commanders to confer with owners and operators of American vessels to obtain their cooperation in organizing the new service. An effort will be made to establish it first on vessels operating from New York and San Francisco. Masters of crews will receive a course of instructions on naval tactics for their crews.

"Boiled down to essentials," the Army and Navy Journal editorial said, "Great Britain has served notice she will never surrender the supremacy of the seas and that she will not permit equality. We call on the nation to direct congress to provide a navy which will make the United States dominant afloat as it would have been but for the Washington conference."

The Peoples Reconstruction League said the "public announcement of the proposed co-operation" of the Dupont interests, United States Steel and General Motors "followed the evident failure of the disarmament conference."

"They have a highly profitable community of interest in naval competition and in wars to follow," said the League.

EDUCATOR SHOTS AND KILLS HIMSELF

Birmingham, Ala., Aug. 6.—(UP)—J. A. Reams, 47, assistant principal of a high school here, shot and killed himself today. The bullet from a small calibre gun passed through his head and lodged in the cheek of his wife. She said the shooting was entirely accidental.

slowly. The punishment was more severe than death itself.

"We do not speak of the injustice of the sentence, although the governor of Massachusetts has coldly, proudly kept to himself his findings, not understanding that it is now not enough for him to seek his own peace of mind. It is necessary for the peace of mind of others that he confirm their guilt, show evidence, publish proofs, then issue the fatal order, praying God to help him bear the weight of his heavy burden to the end."

HEDDA HOYT TELLS—ABOUT VARIETIES

By HEDDA HOYT

New York, Aug. 6—(UP)—Assuming that 'variety is the spice of life,' the woman who is a distinct type finds it difficult to dress in a variety of styles. If she happens to be of mannish type it's dangerous for her to attempt the more feminine types of dress and if she is distinctly feminine in form and features she cannot hope to wear severely tailored clothing.

Very often we grow weary of women who stick too closely to type where clothes are concerned. We are pleasantly surprised when we find one of our boyishly buxom friends wearing a fluffy chiffon frock which permits the showing of bare arms and neck. Somehow a frock seems to alter a woman's personality if it's just the opposite sort from what has been worn.

Very few women try to vary their styles of dressing to any great extent. The clothes they wear seldom seem new to us since they are always just what one would expect. And the individual becomes as uninteresting as her wardrobe. It's especially essential that relatives and friends who are near us each day find us wearing the unusual occasionally. Sometimes a color that has not been worn before will seem to make one radiant. Something a change of silhouette does the same thing.

I have in mind a young college girl whose overgrown proportions forced her to accept only tailored clothing. Even her evening gowns were severely simple and of inconspicuous colors. One night recently she appeared, dressed in a bouffant silver tulle gown, with rounded neckline, semi-fitted bodice and full-gathered skirt which was scalloped edged and adorned in appliques of pastel flowers. No one recognized her in this fragile setting for, although she was as large as ever, the 'Dresden doll' gown effect made her entirely feminine. She had emerged from her cocoon a glorious butterfly.

A friend of mine who has red hair and reddish brown eyes depends so greatly upon accentuating her color scheme that she wears brown, tan or yellow constantly. One can't imagine her in any other shades. What a pity it is that someone can't tell her to forget her eyes and hair and wear a color which will give her friends a slight relief.

Whenever I hear a woman sigh, "My husband never comments on my clothes," I know instinctively that she is one of those persons who fails to alter themselves by wearing diversified styles and new colors. If a woman has never worn a bright red dress in her life and suddenly blossoms forth in one, her husband will certainly notice it.

It's a good plan to change the way of wearing the hair once in a while also. Try parting the hair on the opposite side or in the center for a few days. Or, try wearing the hair, straight for a change with a 'cover-bob' at the rear concealing the short boyish clip.

Natural Methods Upset in Teaching Young Calf

In modern dairy farming, because of the value of whole milk and butterfat, the dairyman upsets the natural method which the calf would follow in feeding and separates the calf from the cow soon after birth. For the first few days the calf is left with the cow, because of the properties of the milk, which puts the calf's digestive apparatus in good working order. Most dairymen leave the calf with its mother for 48 hours, unless the calf is weak, when it is best to allow it to remain longer. The longer the calf remains with the cow, however, the harder it is to teach it to drink.

Conical Type Cooler

The so-called conical type of milk cooler is used to a considerable extent on farms. This type of cooler is made and sold for a comparatively low price and when properly used is efficient. The conical part of the cooler is hollow; this allows a space for ice and water. The receiver, which sets on top of the conical part of the cooler, contains a number of small holes which allow the milk to flow over the conical surface, being cooled by the ice water within.

Whenever I hear a woman sigh, "My husband never comments on my clothes," I know instinctively that she is one of those persons who fails to alter themselves by wearing diversified styles and new colors. If a woman has never worn a bright red dress in her life and suddenly blossoms forth in one, her husband will certainly notice it.

It's a good plan to change the way of wearing the hair once in a while also. Try parting the hair on the opposite side or in the center for a few days. Or, try wearing the hair, straight for a change with a 'cover-bob' at the rear concealing the short boyish clip.

PINE CITY IS MECCA TODAY

CELEBRATION AT THE CENTRAL POINT OF HIGHWAY
NO. 1

Pine City, Minn., Aug. 6.—(UP)—As the central point of Highway No. 1, the longest paved stretch in Minnesota, Pine City today was the mecca for hundreds of officials of cities and towns along the road in celebration of the formal opening of "Minnesota's avenue."

Communities from the Iowa state line to the Canadian border were represented by the huge gathering at the festivities.

From the north and the south, automobile caravans arrived here during the morning and shortly after noon Mayor L. C. Hodgson of St. Paul and Mayor S. F. Snively of Duluth formally opened the highway to traffic.

Bands, drum corps and bugle corps aided in the joyous celebration which marked completion of 256 miles of paved highway from Steel Center in southern Minnesota to Knife River in the northern part of the state. The pavement from Steel Center to Iowa and from Knife River to Canada will be completed in the near future.

The celebrants will continue their activities throughout the day and will conclude with a pavement dance tonight.

Scores of cities and towns along highway No. 1 will conduct festivities of their own simultaneously with the state-wide celebration here.

AUSTIN SEEKS

NEXT CONVENTION

Austin, Minn., Aug. 6.—(UP)—Plans are under way here among Legionnaires to make a concerted effort to obtain the next state convention of the American Legion for Austin.

An automobile caravan will make the trip to the state convention at Hibbing Monday bearing banners urging selection of Austin as the convention city in 1928.

Businessmen of Austin are co-operating with the local post and Austin's campaign at Hibbing will be led by Dr. J. J. Morrow.

COUNTERFEITERS ACTIVE WITHIN PRISON WALLS

Nashville, Tenn., Aug. 6.—(UP)—Activities of counterfeiters within the walls of the Tennessee penitentiary were believed ended here today with the reported confession of John Jordan, prisoner, that he had raised a number of $1 bills to higher denominations.

Jordan, according to Lewis S. Pope, commissioner of the institution, was caught in the act of stencilling a $1 bill into a $10 bill before he made the confession.

The counterfeiter was said to have used only a pen and ink in making "big ones out of little ones."

BRAINERD LANDS 1928 STATE MOOSE CONVENTION

Brainerd landed the Moose convention for 1928, according to a telegram received at 3:40 P. M. today from International Falls.

Satisfactory System of Calf Feeding Developed

The Ottawa (Canada) experimental farm has developed a fairly satisfactory system of calf feeding. For the first feeding they see to it that the calf gets the colostrum milk from its dam. If this is not available then another fresh cow is used. For the first two weeks the calf gets a daily ration of from eight to twelve pounds of whole milk. This is given three times a day so as to not overload the stomach of the calf.

The amount of milk is slightly increased during the third and fourth weeks. Following that time the calf is gradually shifted to skim milk and is fed a grain mixture plus a calf meal. Only a limited amount of this meal is given at first and the amount gradually increased as the calf increases in size.

The calf meal which they use as a substitute for the fat in the milk is made of two parts of finely ground oats, two parts of corn meal, one part of ground flaxseed, one-half of one per cent salt and 1 per cent bone meal. Two parts of oil meal may be substituted in place of the flaxseed, but it is not so good. This mixture is fed by putting the amount needed for a day's feeding in a pail, pouring scalding water over it and then feeding the mixture the following evening and morning.

Low-Yielding Cows Will Reduce Dairying Profits

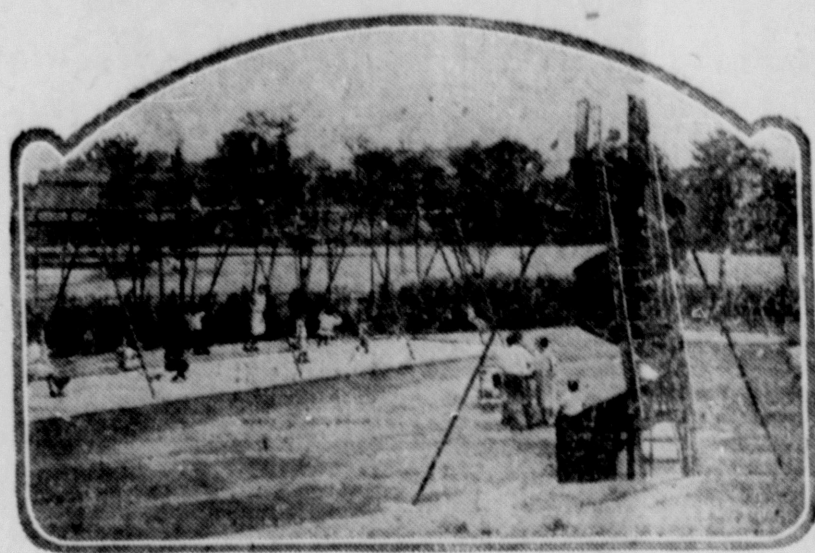

It is low-yielding cows that "play hob" with farm dairying. They eat just about as much as cows that yield a profit, and each one costs just as much in labor, feed and equipment as does a good cow, the one that makes money for her owner. The worst thing about these low yielders is the fact they put milk on the market in competition with the money-making cows, and do this during times of surplus. Thus they increase the supply of milk out of proportion to the demand, which lowers the price of all milk throughout the year, whether used on the fluid market or for butter, cheese or other dairy products. The menace to dairying is not more good cows, but too many cows of low production.

FILES $1,000,000 SUIT FOR ALIENATION OF AFFECTIONS

Asheville, N. C., Aug. 6.—(UP)—Suit for $1,000,000 damages has been filed here by G. Wallace Bryant, nephew of Henry Ford, charging Henry Westall, prominent golfer, with alienation of his wife's affections. The bill relates a long series of domestic difficulties growing out of Westall's alleged attentions to Mrs. Bryant. It also charges Westall with violation of a signed agreement to discontinue the troublesome attentions. Bryant is a patient in a sanitarium here.

NEW RECORDS FOR PLAYGROUND USE IN NATION EXPECTED THIS YEAR

Over 1,000,000 Men, Women, Children in Attendance
Represents Present Figure—Communities
Report Increase Over 1926—
New York Leads.

BIT by bit children are winning back for their use as play grounds the land won from them in the last fifty years by the march of commercial progress.

Aided by various associations and individuals throughout the country, communities are setting aside more money each year to give children what the authorities call the children's birthright, according to data now being compiled to cover 1927.

More than 1,000,000 men, women and children every day found play and recreation on public play grounds last year, according to the Playground and Recreation Association. That figure is expected to be exceeded greatly this year. In 758 cities the municipalities spent $19,202,123 for recreation purposes on 5,600 outdoor playgrounds.

So far this year 790 towns and cities have reported recreational facilities at 19,123 centers, every one supervised or directed in some fashion to give the "greatest good to the greatest number."

For this year, New York State is in the lead with 1,416 recreation centers in 74 cities. Pennsylvania is second with 906 centers and Massachusetts third with 807 playgrounds.

California, however, spent more than any other state, with a total of $2,571,501. Illinois was second with $2,397,106 and New York State was third with $2,331,162. In New York City alone the expenditure was $939,263.

In the last ten years, it is estimated, the number of public recreation centers has been multiplied by more than two and a half. The increase has been due in large measure to provision made by realty men for recreation centers in new subdivisions.

Model playgrounds today include kindergartens, swings, slides, merry-go-rounds, pavilions, field houses, wading pools and, of course, an open play area where the larger children may romp to their hearts' content, with ball games, top matches and marble tournaments.

No grass could stand the punishment of hundreds of feet and the modern practice is to roll the ground firmly and bind the surface with some agent, usually calcium chloride, which keeps the dust laid even in extremely dry weather.

Such playgrounds have an added value in keeping children off the street, the experts assert, and thereby reducing the number of deaths from automobile accidents. Some cities, notably New York, have reported substantial gains in child-saving by this means.

Saved from Death at the Hands of a Mexican Firing Squad

Nogales, Ariz., Aug. 6.—(UP)—Gabe Rendon, former stage line operator of Tucson, saved from death at the hands of a Mexican firing squad only by the intervention of General Francisco Manzo, it was learned today.

Rendon, held for alleged connection with the revolutionary activities of former President Adolfo De La Huerta, was returned here from Nogales Sonora, after having spent three days in the military prison there.

Mexican authorities were preparing to execute him when General Manzo of the Federal army, a close personal friend of the pioneer Rendon family, intervened.

SATURDAY, AUGUST 6, 1927

HIS WORK TELLS THE STORY

C. M. BABCOCK, Commissioner of Highways, spoke at the Pine City celebration of the opening of pavement on Highway No. 1, and we think so much of Mr. Babcock's address that we give it all prominence on the editorial page.

Just as our paving unites Brainerd and the Twin Cities and on farther to the state line in a bond of concrete, so No. 1 now unites the Twin Cities and the Head of the Lakes.

Mr. Babcock said:

"I and my associates who have been entrusted with the task of building and maintaining the Minnesota trunk highway system have tried to do as much work as we can and talk about it as little as possible, but I trust that we may be pardoned today if we talk with some pride about the stretch of paved road which has recently been completed and which is being formally opened today.

"The pavement which is here being dedicated is more than a stretch of concrete, it is more than a connecting link between the Twin Cities and the Head of the Lakes. It is a connecting link uniting into one system two areas which have heretofore each had a system of good roads.

"Early in the history of the trunk highway system there was begun a network of highways connecting the two great industrial centers, Minneapolis and St. Paul, with the rich agricultural regions south and west of those cities. At about the same time there was begun the construction of good roads from Duluth, the head of the lakes and probably the world's greatest inland shipping port, with the Mesaba range, the world's great iron ore producing region, and the lakes and forests surrounding that great mining and shipping region. But not until now has there been an adequate highway connecting those two regions.

"We hope, however, that this new highway will be more than a link connecting other highways; we hope it will be a real connecting link between the people of the north and the south.

"The people in northern and southern Minnesota have some diverse interests, they may take opposite views on some legislation and other matters affecting the commonwealth. But after all they are one people, thinking the same thoughts, living to a large extent the same kind of lives, and to a very large extent their interests are the same. Those in the northern counties love Minnesota as much as those in the southern counties. All they need is a better acquaintance and a better understanding.

"It is our hope that this new highway will be an aid in bringing closer together the people of the north and the south. There has never been a very serious division between them in the past, but we hope that in the future there will be none at all. We hope that as they get to know each other better, there will be a better understanding, and a more thorough realization that they have much in common and that their interests are after all the same. We hope that this new highway, which will make communication between the northern and southern communities easier, will contribute to that understanding. We hope it will contribute to making our state more closely united, that it will help to lessen prejudice and suspicion, that it will help to create good-will and co-operation between the people in all parts of the state. And we hope that we may from time to time, build other highways in other parts of the state which will in the same manner contribute to the unity of the state and the happiness of its people. Each completed highway means that we can devote our thoughts and energies to the improvement of other highways which need attention. Minnesota already has highway improvements in all parts of the state which have brought the east and west, the north and the south, closer together. No community in the state is any longer isolated the year around, but in such periods as we had last spring, many communities were cut off from the rest of the world for weeks at a time. It is our hope that we may before many years see a highway system built so well that no community will be isolated at any time of the year. Then and only then can we say that we have one truly united commonwealth."

BEAUTY BEGETS HAPPINESS

A WRITER in the current issue of the Atlantic Monthly, as commented on by the Princeton Union, in an interesting article presents an argument to prove that beauty is now recognized as an important business tool. Automobile manufacturers, even Henry Ford, the writer points out, cannot now overlook the fact that the American public is keenly interested in external appearance, and both men and women are showing a marked preference for those things that are pleasing to the eye; it matters not whether they are buying canned goods, kitchen cabinets, or automobiles.

The American people do want beauty, and at this season of the year there is evidence of that fact on every hand. In the cities, where the space is limited, the flowers are crowded into a small area, as a window box or a patch of a garden. In the villages, as here in Princeton, the gardens are bright with a host of flowers and nearly every house is surrounded by a well-kept lawn dotted with shrubbery. Even the filling station, realizing the value of making their premises attractive, have flowers blooming in profusion between the squares of cement and mortar.

A surprising number of farm homes have attractive flower gardens in the front door yard, and frequently it is not so easy to grow flowers there as it is in the villages where the chickens and other fowls are not allowed to run loose and where there is a water supply to which a hose can be attached.

The American people are surrounding themselves with flowers and bright colors in their gardens because they know those things create an atmosphere of happiness.

But the frosts are coming soon and the flowers will then wither, and all nature by November will have assumed a drab dress. Then the bright, pretty coloring in the home must be indoors.

It is a recognized fact that the people who reside in the villages and rural districts have a more stern, grim attitude than the residents of the larger cities, because by the nature of their surroundings they have a harder struggle to provide themselves with the comforts of life.

The homes in the villages and rural districts frequently are painfully bare, even where money is available for making them attractive. The women, who are keenly sensitive to a lack of beauty and bright colors, when money is somewhat scarce in the household, conscientiously refrain from making any requests for unnecessary expenditures. But that sort of economy can be carried too far, because happiness, life, light and color are essential to the welfare of human beings. The home should be a place that is a delight to the senses of those living in it.

There is promise of a bountiful harvest this year, and the people in this section of the state should have a fair amount of money this winter. It would be a fine thing if every housewife in this community, on the farms and in the villages, this fall could be given an extra $25, $50 or $100 to be spent in making the home more attractive by buying some bright draperies, pretty curtains, lamp shades or other little ornaments. The extra touch of color and the relief that comes with the introduction of a few new articles into a room would be an A No. 1 investment for the whole family. None of us are going to take anything with us when the final call comes and let us make the places in which we spend most of our waking, leisure hours attractive.

WARNS OF FIRE MENACE

DANGERS from forest fire in the north woods is greater from the carelessness of the resident camper than from the ignorance of the casual tourist, says a man versed in the ways of camping.

According to Grover M. Conzel, State Forester, the outsider readily accepts advice from members of the field force and from warning placards. The resident camper on the other hand often is inclined to think lightly of Minnesota's timber lands. Often he takes things for granted with the results that his actions in handling fire frequently border on carelessness, and therefore court disaster.

The forestry force is taking precautions to familiarize late summer tourists with the unseasonable dangers which have developed because of exceptionally heavy growth of vegetation, which in a short dry spell would be converted into a great fire menace.

NEWSPAPER ADVERTISING PAYS

THE first of the year General Motors Corporation inaugurated a nationwide campaign of advertising using every newspaper large and small in the entire country. It was tremendous and an expensive experiment.

It was on a larger scale than any other advertising campaign in the country but last week the announcement was made that the net profits of this big corporation for the first six months of the year exceeded the profits for the same period last year by several million dollars and at the same time it was announced that the advertising campaign would be continued this fall.

The object lesson is one for other advertisers to heed.—Brainerd Daily Pioneer.

PLANES SHOW 55 TIMES MORE DUST IN CITY THAN IN COUNTRY ATMOSPHERE

Federal Observer, Who Aided Lindbergh, Studies Particles to Show Effect of Showers and Time of Day—Suburban Air Seems Good.

AIRPLANES are now being used to determine the amount and nature of dust particles floating in the atmosphere. Just particles that have been blown skyward from the earth.

Dr. Herbert H. Kimball, United States Weather Bureau meteorologist, who has been prominent in the news recently because of the data he supplied to Lindbergh, Chamberlain, Byrd and other aviators for long distance flights, has been making a special study of atmospheric dust. His figures show that country dust has 2,000 particles to the cubic inch; suburban air 30,000 particles and 115,000 or more to the cubic inch of city air.

Tests in the airplanes have shown that in the morning more dust is found near the ground than in the afternoon and, further, that more dust is found near the ground than at a height of from 2,000 to 7,000 feet.

Showers, of course, will reduce the number of dust particles and a country breeze has the same effect. Other scientists have made various studies as to the effect of certain chemicals on laying dust. Foremost of those has been calcium chloride, a white and flaky chemical which attracts moisture to itself, dissolves when exposed to the air and combines with the road surface to which it is applied.

HIS WORK TELLS THE STORY

C. M. BABCOCK, Commissioner of Highways, spoke at the Pine City celebration of the opening of pavement on Highway No. 1, and we think so much of Mr. Babcock's address that we give it all prominence on the editorial page.

Just as our paving unites Brainerd and the Twin Cities and on farther to the state line in a bond of concrete, so No. 1 now unites the Twin Cities and the Head of the Lakes.

Mr. Babcock said:

"I and my associates who have been entrusted with the task of building and maintaining the Minnesota trunk highway system have tried to do as much work as we can and talk about it as little as possible, but I trust that we may be pardoned today if we talk with some pride about the stretch of paved road which has recently been completed and which is being formally opened today.

"The pavement which is here being dedicated is more than a stretch of concrete, it is more than a connecting link between the Twin Cities and the Head of the Lakes. It is a connecting link uniting into one system two areas which have heretofore each had a system of good roads.

"Early in the history of the trunk highway system there was begun a network of highways connecting the two great industrial centers, Minneapolis and St. Paul, with the rich agricultural regions south and west of those cities. At about the same time there was begun the construction of good roads from Duluth, the head of the lakes and probably the world's greatest inland shipping port, with the Mesaba range, the world's great iron ore producing region, and the lakes and forests surrounding that great mining and shipping region. But not until now has there been an adequate highway connecting those two regions.

"We hope, however, that this new highway will be more than a link connecting other highways; we hope it will be a real connecting link between the people of the north and the south.

"The people in northern and southern Minnesota have some diverse interests, they may take opposite views on some legislation and other matters affecting the commonwealth. But after all they are one people, thinking the same thoughts, living to a large extent the same kind of lives, and to a very large extent their interests are the same. Those in the northern counties love Minnesota as much as those in the southern counties. All they need is a better acquaintance and a better understanding.

"It is our hope that this new highway will be an aid in bringing closer together the people of the north and the south. There has never been a very serious division between them in the past, but we hope that in the future there will be none at all. We hope that as they get to know each other better, there will be a better understanding, and a more thorough realization that they have much in common and that their interests are after all the same. We hope that this new highway, which will make communication between the northern and southern communities easier, will contribute to that understanding. We hope it will contribute to making our state more closely united, that it will help to lessen prejudice and suspicion, that it will help to create good-will and co-operation between the people in all parts of the state. And we hope that we may from time to time, build other highways in other parts of the state which will in the same manner contribute to the unity of the state and the happiness of its people. Each completed highway means that we can devote our thoughts and energies to the improvement of other highways which need attention. Minnesota already has highway improvements in all parts of the state which have brought the east and west, the north and the south, closer together. No community in the state is any longer isolated the year around, but in such periods as we had last spring, many communities were cut off from the rest of the world for weeks at a time. It is our hope that we may before many years see a highway system built so well that no community will be isolated at any time of the year. Then and only then can we say that we have one truly united commonwealth."

BEAUTY BEGETS HAPPINESS

A WRITER in the current issue of the Atlantic Monthly, as commented on by the Princeton Union, in an interesting article presents an argument to prove that beauty is now recognized as an important business tool. Automobile manufacturers, even Henry Ford, the writer points out, cannot now overlook the fact that the American public is keenly interested in external appearance, and both men and women are showing a marked preference for those things that are pleasing to the eye; it matters not whether they are buying canned goods, kitchen cabinets, or automobiles.

The American people do want beauty, and at this season of the year there is evidence of that fact on every hand. In the cities, where the space is limited, the flowers are crowded into a small area, as a window box or a patch of a garden. In the villages, as here in Princeton, the gardens are bright with a host of flowers and nearly every house is surrounded by a well-kept lawn dotted with shrubbery. Even the filling station, realizing the value of making their premises attractive, have flowers blooming in profusion between the squares of cement and mortar.

A surprising number of farm homes have attractive flower gardens in the front door yard, and frequently it is not so easy to grow flowers there as it is in the villages where the chickens and other fowls are not allowed to run loose and where there is a water supply to which a hose can be attached.

The American people are surrounding themselves with flowers and bright colors in their gardens because they know those things create an atmosphere of happiness.

But the frosts are coming soon and the flowers will then wither, and all nature by November will have assumed a drab dress. Then the bright, pretty coloring in the home must be indoors.

It is a recognized fact that the people who reside in the villages and rural districts have a more stern, grim attitude than the residents of the larger cities, because by the nature of their surroundings they have a harder struggle to provide themselves with the comforts of life.

The homes in the villages and rural districts frequently are painfully bare, even where money is available for making them attractive. The women, who are keenly sensitive to a lack of beauty and bright colors, when money is somewhat scarce in the household, conscientiously refrain from making any requests for unnecessary expenditures. But that sort of economy can be carried too far, because happiness, life, light and color are essential to the welfare of human beings. The home should be a place that is a delight to the senses of those living in it.

There is promise of a bountiful harvest this year, and the people in this section of the state should have a fair amount of money this winter. It would be a fine thing if every housewife in this community, on the farms and in the villages, this fall could be given an extra $25, $50 or $100 to be spent in making the home more attractive by buying some bright draperies, pretty curtains, lamp shades or other little ornaments. The extra touch of color and the relief that comes with the introduction of a few new articles into a room would be an A No. 1 investment for the whole family. None of us are going to take anything with us when the final call comes and let us make the places in which we spend most of our waking, leisure hours attractive.

RICKARD HAS BOYS GUESSING AS TO PLAY OF FIGHTERS

DEMPSEY AND TUNNEY BOTH HEADLINERS

FORMER CHAMPION AND CHAMPION EACH INSISTS HE IS THE CARD

PROMOTER NOT INCLINED TO LET PUBLIC SHARE IN PRIVATE BUSINESS DETAILS

By HENRY L. FARRELL (United Press Staff Correspondent)

New York, Aug. 6.—With all advance signs indicating record attendance and receipts at the coming Tunney-Dempsey heavyweight championship fight, Tex Rickard has the boys engaging in a guessing contest as to what he will pay the fighters.

Neither Tunney nor Dempsey have any "deflated" idea about the financial value of his services and in this particular spot Rickard is in the middle with a champion and a former champion, each insisting he is the card.

In his other fights Rickard had a champion and an ambitious challenger who could be persuaded that he wasn't worth as much money as the champion and that the chance to win the championship was worth more than purse money.

Rickard is not inclined to let the public share in the details of his private business but from hints he has dropped in conversation about the financial end of his big bout it is safe to assume that he will have to pay Tunney close to a million dollars.

When he was discussing the claim made by the New York boxing commission that he had promised to stage the championship fight here, Rickard said:

"I never had any intention of staging the championship match in New York. I couldn't do it. I had to guarantee Tunney more money than I ever gave a fighter before and I had to make sure of a much bigger gate than I could get in any place in New York or more than the fight in Philadelphia drew last year."

He intimated that he would have to count out about two million dollars of the receipts before he could put any of the money aside for himself and the company.

How much Dempsey has been guaranteed is a matter of guess work but some of Dempsey's close friends believe that he would not accept less than a half-million.

Although Jack Kearns was given the credit for getting the big money when he was handling Dempsey's business affairs, the former champion is a good business man himself and Rickard is authority for the statement that Dempsey can drive even a better bargain than Kearns.

Dempsey, Rickard says, is reasonable now that he doesn't have to split fifty-fifty with a manager but he insists that he is the drawing card in all his fights and that he is entitled to a just share of the receipts.

BILL SERRICK FAVORED TO WIN AT PUBLIC LINKS

PITTED PLAY AGAINST CARL KAUFFMAN OF PITTSBURGH

BOTH HAVE BEEN FINALISTS IN PREVIOUS GOLF TOURNAMENTS

By GERALD D. McCLEAN (United Press Staff Correspondent)

Ridgewood Country Club, Cleveland, Aug. 6.—Bill Serrick, New York, was a slight favorite to win the National Public Links Golf championship today against Carl Kauffman of Pittsburgh.

Both Serrick and Kauffman have been finalists in previous tournaments and both lost their title matches.

In 1925, Serrick was runner-up to Ray McCauliffe of Buffalo when the title was fought for at Salisbury. Last year Kauffman played second fiddle at Buffalo to 19-year-old Lester Bolstad of Minneapolis. Serrick has entered every tournament since the inauguration at Toledo in 1922; Kauffman joined the aspirants the following year.

Serrick was favored to win today because he is consistent. The Pittsburgher played some brilliant golf to get into the finals, but he is not immune to "blowing up." Since the qualifying rounds, Serrick has displayed the icy nerves of a veteran, while Kauffman has pulled out of some bad holes with truly sensational shots.

Serrick earned the right to be a finalist by defeating Kendall Morris, 20-year-old St. Joseph, Mo., star. The New York man, by a steady game, was able to nose out the Missourian by a score of five and four.

After shooting Bob Wingate, of Jacksonville, Fla., the first two holes, Kauffman played some sensational shots that put him two up at the turn. He dropped one at the tenth, recovered it at the eleventh, and hung on grimly until the seventeenth when the contest ended.

THOMPSON GETS TRIPLE IN 4TH; BEDAL IS N. E. HEAVY HITTER

The I. O. O. F. team upset the dope bucket last evening by defeating the Northeast team by the score of 4 to 3 in a game featured by the good pitching of Sandgren.

Jarboe was driven from the mound in the fourth inning when the I. O. O. F. collected five hits and four runs which included a triple by Thompson. He was relieved by Richmond.

Sandgren had the N. E. batters at his mercy, allowing eight scattered hits and striking out ten men. He was aided in his victory by perfect support of his team mates.

Johnson made a great running catch of Jarboe's line drive in the fourth with two men on but the umpire ruled that the ball hit the ground first. Johnson's protest was overruled. Johnson collected two hits, a single and a double. O. Erickson pounded out two hits. Bedal collected three hits for Northeast out of four trips to the plate.

Thompson hit a long three-base hit to score Sandgren from first base for the first run in the third inning and crossed the home plate a minute later on a fielder's choice.

Northeast scored in their half of the fourth on Bedal's single, and advanced on Swanson's single, scoring on Kaufman's hit to right field.

The I. O. O. F. collected two more runs in the fourth on Erickson's single, Johnson's hit over third, both men being advanced by Swanson's sacrifice hit and scored on a fielder's choice and an error by H. Swanson.

Swanson hit to left to start a rally for Northeast and was forced at second by a fielder's choice. Bedal hit to center field and both runners scored on Jarboe's long double after Johnson made a running dive to catch it.

The next game will be played on Tuesday evening when the I. O. O. F. meets the South Side.

PITCHES FINE, HITS SAFELY 4 TIMES AT BAT

CHICAGO CUBS BEAT BOSTON BRAVES BY SCORE 5 TO 2

VICTORY MEANS LEAD OF TWO FULL GAMES IN NATIONAL LEAGUE

(By UNITED PRESS)

Percy Jones, who started his first game for the Cubs since an operation was performed on his arm early in the season, proved himself a "one man ball team" by pitching effectively to the Boston batters and hitting safely each of the four times he went to the plate. The Cubs beat the Braves 5 to 2 and the victory meant a lead of two full games in the National league.

Meanwhile, Cy Williams of the Phillies gave the Pirates a setback by producing a hit of each denomination in four times at bat. Williams' homer, triple, double and single were largely responsible for Philadelphia's 9 to 7 victory. The Pirates came within one run of tying the score in the seventh when they scored four times.

Jess Petty stepped into a tight place in the Cards' game with Brooklyn and held the champions to one hit and no runs in the four and one-third innings he pitched. Petty enabled the Dodgers to maintain their lead and they won 5 to 2.

It seemed to be the second division teams' "day." The Reds shut out the Giants 5 to 0. Luque allowed New York only five hits which were well scattered.

Goelin started the fourth inning at bat for Washington with a single. When he came to bat the next time in the same inning, he hit a home run. The Senators scored 10 times in that session and the final score was Washington 17, St. Louis 8. Four Browns pitchers worked.

The Tigers put up a hard fight to take better than half of the games in their series with the Yankees but the latter triumphed 5 to 2, for an even split in the series. Babe Ruth hit his 35th home run, putting him within two of the total accumulated by Lou Gehrig.

The White Sox series with Boston ended with a 4 to 1 victory for the Red Sox. The Chicagoans' lone tally was the third run they scored during the entire series.

Indianapolis, Ind.—Jimmy Zinn, ace of the Kansas City pitching staff, was touched for eleven hits while Koupal held the Blues to six safeties and Indianapolis shut out the visitors 5 to 0. Holke, Layne and Florence connected for circuit drives.

Toledo, O.—St. Paul annexed a total of seventeen base hits which counted for fourteen runs against Toledo, while the Hens found Betts for only eight hits and three runs. Funk and Roetger led the Saints attack.

Columbus, O.—Base hits were responsible for a 10 to 1 victory of Minneapolis over Columbus. The Millers piled up twenty hits which counted for thirty bases. They included two homers, two three base hits and three two base hits. Emmer got his twentieth home run.

Louisville, Ky.—Gearin kept the nine Louisville hits scattered and Milwaukee won 9 to 4. The Brewers drove Moss to the showers in the eighth and Friday who went in for him stopping the scoring.

BASEBALL'S BIG FIVE

Babe Ruth made his thirty-fifth home run of the season and a double out of four times at bat.

Gehrig got a triple in three times up.

Hornsby failed to hit safely in four attempts.

Speaker and Cobb were idle.

New York, Aug. 6.—With all advance signs indicating record attendance and receipts at the coming Tunney-Dempsey heavyweight championship fight, Tex Rickard has the boys guessing in a contest as to what he will pay the fighters.

Neither Tunney nor Dempsey have any "deflated" idea about the financial value of his services and in this particular spot Rickard is in the middle with a champion and a former champion, each insisting he is the card.

Oneonta, Ala., Aug. 6.—(UP)—Several additional arrests were promised today by Atty. Gen. Charles McCall as the trial of L. A. Clayton on charges of participating in the kidnapping and flogging of Jeff Callaway, a farm youth, was resumed.

McCall refused to say who the additional suspects were but intimated that all were members of the Tarrant City Ku Klux Klan.

One klanman, Eugene Doss, was found guilty of kidnapping in connection with the attack on young Callaway and eight others face similar charges. Clayton was the second to go on trial.

A succession of character witnesses was summoned by the defense today at Clayton's trial. Attorneys for the indicted klanmen offered no defense for Doss but were making a desperate fight to prevent conviction of Clayton.

PITCHES FINE, HITS SAFELY 4 TIMES AT BAT

CHICAGO CUBS BEAT BOSTON BRAVES BY SCORE 5 TO 2

VICTORY MEANS LEAD OF TWO FULL GAMES IN NATIONAL LEAGUE

(By UNITED PRESS)

Percy Jones, who started his first game for the Cubs since an operation was performed on his arm early in the season, proved himself a "one man ball team" by pitching effectively to the Boston batters and hitting safely each of the four times he went to the plate. The Cubs beat the Braves 5 to 2 and the victory meant a lead of two full games in the National league.

Meanwhile, Cy Williams of the Phillies gave the Pirates a setback by producing a hit of each denomination in four times at bat. Williams' homer, triple, double and single were largely responsible for Philadelphia's 9 to 7 victory. The Pirates came within one run of tying the score in the seventh when they scored four times.

Jess Petty stepped into a tight place in the Cards' game with Brooklyn and held the champions to one hit and no runs in the four and one-third innings he pitched. Petty enabled the Dodgers to maintain their lead and they won 5 to 2.

It seemed to be the second division teams' "day." The Reds shut out the Giants 5 to 0. Luque allowed New York only five hits which were well scattered.

Goelin started the fourth inning at bat for Washington with a single. When he came to bat the next time in the same inning, he hit a home run. The Senators scored 10 times in that session and the final score was Washington 17, St. Louis 8. Four Browns pitchers worked.

The Tigers put up a hard fight to take better than half of the games in their series with the Yankees but the latter triumphed 5 to 2, for an even split in the series. Babe Ruth hit his 35th home run, putting him within two of the total accumulated by Lou Gehrig.

The White Sox series with Boston ended with a 4 to 1 victory for the Red Sox. The Chicagoans' lone tally was the third run they scored during the entire series.

Indianapolis, Ind.—Jimmy Zinn, ace of the Kansas City pitching staff, was touched for eleven hits while Koupal held the Blues to six safeties and Indianapolis shut out the visitors 5 to 0. Holke, Layne and Florence connected for circuit drives.

Toledo, O.—St. Paul annexed a total of seventeen base hits which counted for fourteen runs against Toledo, while the Hens found Betts for only eight hits and three runs. Funk and Roetger led the Saints attack.

Columbus, O.—Base hits were responsible for a 10 to 1 victory of Minneapolis over Columbus. The Millers piled up twenty hits which counted for thirty bases. They included two homers, two three base hits and three two base hits. Emmer got his twentieth home run.

Louisville, Ky.—Gearin kept the nine Louisville hits scattered and Milwaukee won 9 to 4. The Brewers drove Moss to the showers in the eighth and Friday who went in for him stopping the scoring.

BASEBALL'S BIG FIVE

Babe Ruth made his thirty-fifth home run of the season and a double out of four times at bat.

Gehrig got a triple in three times up.

Hornsby failed to hit safely in four attempts.

Speaker and Cobb were idle.

The church and community are asked to keep in mind the coming of the Baptist state convention, bringing upwards of four hundred delegates to our city, among them being many of the leading men of the denomination, including George W. Coleman, the president of the Northern Baptist convention and head of the large Coleman Lamp Works of Wichita, Kansas.

Kids Free at State Fair

Yes sir, and we don't mean maybe! Any kid under twelve years old will be admitted free to the great Minnesota State Fair and Northwest Dairy Exposition, September 3 to 10, any day or night of the week, whether accompanied by a grown-up or alone. It's the 1927 ruling of the fair managers, who all remember what they would have liked to get when they were kids.

And what a program has been prepared for the boys and girls of the Northwest! There's the fish and game exhibit; the wild animals; the midway shows; funny-looking horses, cattle, sheep, swine, and chickens; all kinds of moving machinery; the boys' and girls' club demonstrations; sixteen bands and orchestras; the hundreds of drink-and-eat stands; roller coaster, gigantic merry-go-round, auto racing, fireworks, open-air circus acts; horse racing—and a thousand other big and little features.

$3,500,000 FAIR PROGRAM READY

Agricultural, Livestock and Industrial Resources to be Displayed at State Fair.

HE Minnesota State Fair and Northwest Dairy Exposition will be held in the Twin Cities September 3 to 10—the 68th annual exhibition.

With an offer of prizes and premiums totaling $136,711, with livestock exhibits coming from all parts of the continent, with an educational program that tops that of other years, and with an entertainment bill that will provide a thousand thrills, this year's fair will be the "biggest and best" ever held.

The Minnesota State Fair has long been recognized as the "World's Greatest State Fair." It is going to live up to its name. It is going to set a new record for both quality and quantity of exhibits this year! In reality, it is going to present a score of fairs within a fair.

Of especial interest to visitors will be the livestock end of the fair. More than 1,000 head of the finest dairy and beef cattle in the country will be on display in the mammoth $500,000.00 Cattle Barn. Premiums totaling $28,241.00 are offered in this department. The horse department is making preparations for the biggest show in history. With a prize list of $20,530.00, an increase over that of a year ago, both the light and heavy horse shows promise to be banner ones. The night horse show will be staged five nights, from Monday to Friday evenings inclusive.

The swine, sheep, goats and poultry divisions are offering liberal premiums, with record shows assured. The county booth competition in the Agricultural building will bring out the keenest competition in years. Nearly half of the counties in the state have entered exhibits.

All kinds of fruits, flowers and vegetables will be shown in the Horticultural building, which will prove one of the most inviting buildings on the grounds to fair visitors.

Women visitors will be much interested in the Woman's building this year. Its management is vested in a committee representing the leading women's organizations in the state.

Under a new plan just adopted, no article submitted for exhibit will be displayed unless it scores at least 90 per cent. This is being done to make the show more educational in nature.

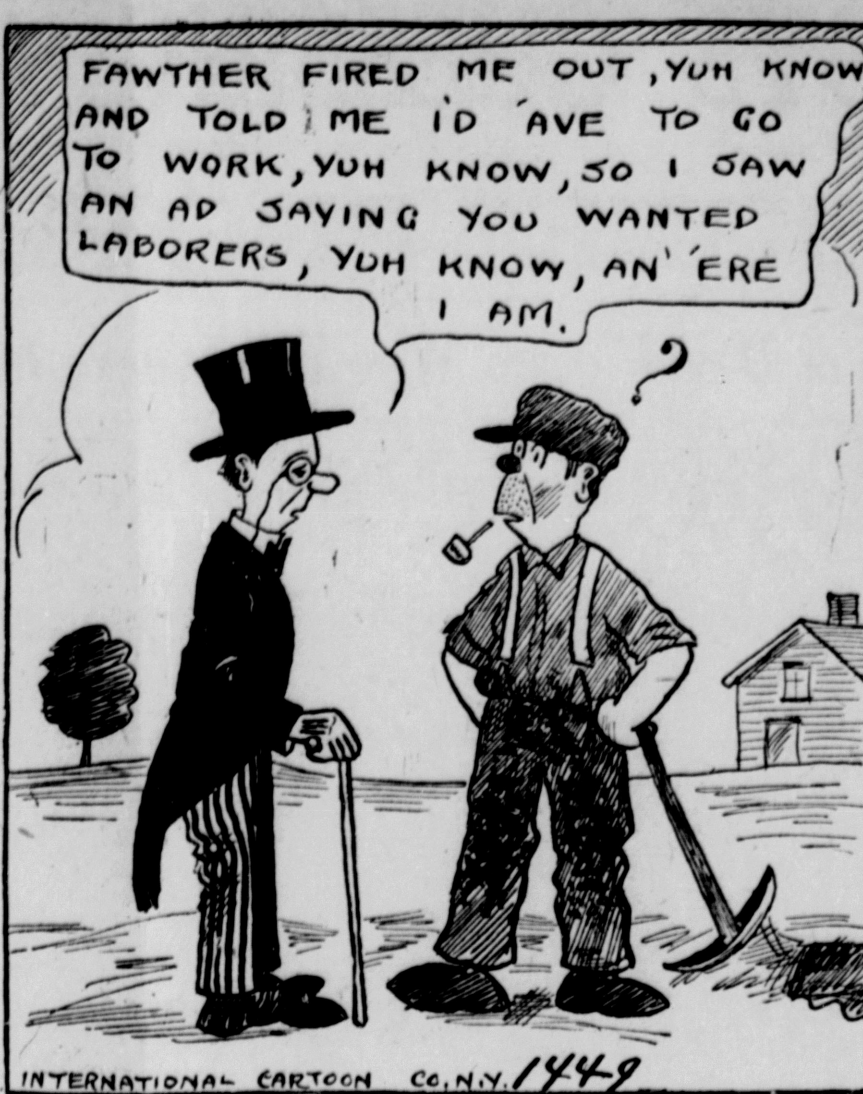

Boys and girls enrolled in club work will demonstrate various club projects in their own building. More than 1,100 youngsters, representing every county in the state, will be brought to the fair with all expenses paid as guests of the fair.

The Fine Arts show will feature a $500,000.00 loan exhibit in addition to the work of Minnesota artists. "How the taxpayer's dollar" is spent will be visualized by a mammoth exhibit of 36 state department and institutions.

THINGS THAT NEVER HAPPEN

Profit in Dairying Will Depend on Proper Feeds

Profitable dairying depends much upon the proper selection of feeds for rations. Since market prices are not a good guide as to the value of different feeds, it is necessary to figure out economical rations, based on local conditions and prices, and the actual feed value of the various feeds obtainable. The best way to determine which of the available feeds are the most economical is to figure out the cost of a pound of total digestible nutrients and of digestible crude protein in each feed. This requires the use of a few simple problems in arithmetic and information regarding the analysis of the various feeding stuffs, but it is the only safe basis for the selection of an economical ration.

Dairy Notes

Feeder pigs pay on the dairy farm.
Fall freshened cows give more and cheaper milk and butterfat.
Milkability is inherited. Raise the calves from your best cows.
If you have ten milk cows you need a silo, if you have no cheaper method to provide green stuff for them next winter.

A dish rag is always dirty. One of these things should never touch a milk vessel.

Quality milk brings the best price and makes satisfied customers. The main essentials are cleanliness, prompt cooling, and holding at a low temperature.

Where succulent materials which will produce odors or flavors are fed to cows, the proper method of procedure is to feed such products shortly after milking.

BIRD'S ROOFS

ART-CRAFT Roofing

Bird's Art-Craft Roll Roofing has all the qualifications demanded of modern roofing material. Not only is it beautiful in appearance but it is permanent, weather-proof and fire-retardant.

Art-Craft is artistically surfaced with natural red or green crushed slate with a tile design in black which adds individuality to every building upon which it is used. Can be used on new building or in re-roofing right over the old shingles.

Art-Craft is made by Bird & Son, Inc. (Est. 1795), manufacturers of Bird's Twin Shingles, Bird's Shingle Design Roofing, Paroid Roofing, Neponset Black Building Paper, Bird's Insulating Blanket and Neponset Board. There's a Bird product for every sort of building!

We are headquarters for Bird's roofing, building papers and wall board.

Electrified News

"HOOKING UP" a city on a UNITED PRESS news system is an event of greater import than the coming of a railroad or the opening of irrigation.

A telegraph wire is led into a newspaper plant—the proper mechanism attached—and the community then has established an exchange of news with the whole world!

The smallest town may have the same wealth of news that the people of the greatest cities enjoy. Asia, Africa, Japan become as close—in the matter of news transmission—as the nearest village.

This newspaper is a client of the UNITED PRESS Associations, one of the greatest news-gathering organizations on the globe. Its lines of communication gird the earth as a net-work.

News is electrified. It travels with the speed of light. And back of it is the enterprise of this great American organization with its own highly trained staff of men at home and in foreign lands.

The UNITED PRESS newspaper of any city is always a superior newspaper.

$3,500,000 FAIR PROGRAM READY

Agricultural, Livestock and Industrial Resources to be Displayed at State Fair.

HE Minnesota
State Fair and Northwest Dairy
Exposition will be held in the Twin Cities September 3 to 10
—the 68th annual exhibition.

With an offer of prizes and premiums totaling $136,741, with livestock exhibits coming from all parts of the continent, with an educational program that tops that of other years, and with an entertainment bill that will provide a thousand thrills, this year's fair will be the "biggest and best" ever held.

The Minnesota State Fair has long been recognized as the "World's Greatest State Fair." It is going to live up to its name. It is going to set a new record for both quality and quantity of exhibits
this year!
In reality,
it is going to present a score of fairs within a fair.

Of especial interest to visitors will be the livestock end of the fair. More than 1,000 head of the finest dairy and beef cattle in the country will be on display in the mammoth $500,000.00
Cattle Barn. Premiums totaling $28-
241.00 are offered in this department.

The horse department is making preparations for the biggest show in years. With a prize list of $20,530.00, an increase over that of a year ago, both the light and heavy horse shows promise to be banner ones. The night horse show will be staged five nights, from Monday to Friday evenings inclusive.

The swine, sheep, goats and poultry divisions are offering liberal premiums, with record shows assured.

The county booth competition in the Agricultural building will bring out the keenest competition in years.
Nearly half of the counties in the state have entered exhibits.

All kinds of fruits, flowers and vegetables will be shown in the Horticultural building, which will prove one of the most inviting buildings on the grounds to fair visitors.

Women visitors will be much interested in the Woman's building this year. Its management is vested in a committee representing the leading women's organizations in the state.

THINGS THAT NEVER HAPPEN

Profit in Dairying Will Depend on Proper Feeds

Profitable dairying depends much upon the proper selection of feeds for rations. Since market prices are not a good guide as to the value of different feeds, it is necessary to figure out economical rations, based on local conditions and prices, and the actual feed value of the various feeds obtainable. The best way to determine which of the available feeds are the most economical is to figure out the cost of a pound of total digestible nutrients and of digestible crude protein in each feed. This requires the use of a few simple problems in arithmetic and information regarding the analysis of the various feeding stuffs, but it is the only safe basis for the selection of an economical ration.

Dairy Notes

Feeder pigs pay on the dairy farm.

Fall freshened cows give more and cheaper milk and butterfat.

Milking ability is inherited. Raise the calves from your best cows.

If you have ten milk cows you need a silo, if you have no cheaper method to provide green stuff for them next winter.

A dish rag is always dirty. One of these things should never touch a milk vessel.

Quality milk brings the best price and makes satisfied customers. The main essentials are cleanliness, prompt cooling, and holding at a low temperature.

Where succulent materials which will produce odors or flavors are fed to cows, the proper method of procedure is to feed such products shortly after milking.

Electrified News

"HOOKING UP" a city on a UNITED PRESS news system is an event of greater import than the coming of a railroad or the opening of irrigation.

A telegraph wire is led into a newspaper plant—the proper mechanism attached—and the community then has established an exchange of news with the whole world!

The smallest town may have the same wealth of news that the people of the greatest cities enjoy. Asia, Africa, Japan become as close—in the matter of news transmission—as the nearest village.

This newspaper is a client of the UNITED PRESS Associations, one of the greatest news-gathering organizations on the globe. Its lines of communication gird the earth as a net-work.

News is electrified. It travels with the speed of light. And back of it is the enterprise of this great American organization with its own highly trained staff of men at home and in foreign lands.

The UNITED PRESS newspaper of any city is always a superior newspaper.

Wheat Per Acre and 40
Bushels Oats

County Agent E. G. Roth this morning reported that a rust epidemic had hit Crow Wing county and that considerable damage was evident on late grains and oats.

Fortunately, however, farmers in the county this year have not gone in strong for wheat raising, and the rust spread from the southern part of the state.

Wheat here that would have run 25 bushels to the acre will be cut down to eight bushels to the acre on account of the epidemic, it is stated. Oats also will be affected greatly, the yield which was predicted at 60 bushels to the acre promises now to be only 20 bushels to the acre.

The rust will have no effect on barley, rye, corn and grasses.

HOME OF MAYOR OF BALTIMORE BOMBED TODAY

Baltimore, Md., Aug. 6.—(UP)—The home of Mayor William F. Broening here was bombed at 6 A. M. today. The rear porch was demolished and caught fire and all windows for a block around were broken, but the mayor's wife and two children in the house were uninjured. The mayor was making a trip to Cincinnati.

Police believe a time bomb was set under the Broening porch at 2 A. M. at that hour, William Broening, the mayor's son, sleeping in a rear bedroom, was awakened by noises in the back yard.

A neighbor's dog growled, raced across to the Broening yard and began scratching and gnawing at the porch lattice-work. Young Broening called police who investigated to no avail.

At 6 A. M. the blast came, tossing Broening in his bed. He saw flames through the window. He ran to the front of the house, arousing his mother and his sister, Katherine, Ethel. Together they ran, in flimsy clothes, to a neighbor's.

Another neighbor called the fire department. The blaze was extinguished with little damage except to the porch.

Philadelphia, Aug. 6.—A bomb exploded in the basement of the Emanuel Presbyterian church shortly after midnight today, severely damaging the building.

The stained glass windows were shattered, doors torn from their hinges, and the interior blackened.

The windows in a passing street car were broken by the detonation, and flying glass injured several passengers who were taken to the Presbyterian hospital.

Windows in surrounding homes were also shattered.

Neighbors said they heard several pistol shots before the blast. Detectives found a second unexploded bomb made of nitroglycerin, with a detonation cap set. Police had no clues early today.

N. P. BUILDS NEW AIRBRAKE SHOP

New Structure, Rebuilt of Brick, to be 50 by 30 Feet; 30 Feet High

DISMANTLE OLD POWER PLANT

Old Airbrake Shop to be Razed as Soon as Building is Completed

A new airbrake shop is being built at the Northern Pacific railway shops plant. The structure practically rebuilt of brick measures 50 feet in length, 30 feet in width and 30 feet to the peak of the roof. It occupies the site of the old power plant which has been dismantled and material, where acceptable, used in the construction of the new building. This necessitated removal of the elevated track for coal and other things necessary for the old power plant but of no use in the airbrake shop.

The old airbrake shop is a wooden building near the office which will be razed as soon as a new and more commodious building is completed.

BOOK FIGHT PICTURES

Local Fans Will be Given Chance to Judge Dempsey at Tyson, Aug. 12 and 15

Brainerd fight fans will have an opportunity August 14 and 15 of seeing for themselves the pictures of the Dempsey-Sharkey fight and determining whether or not Dempsey fouled the Lithuanian.

W. R. Hiller, manager of local F. and R. theatres was in receipt of the following letter today from the booking office of the F. and R. theatres at Minneapolis:

"We have booked the pictures of the Dempsey-Sharkey fight for your use at the Lyceum theatre, August 14 and 15. They are two reels in length and show the fight very clearly. The knock-out blows are both slow motion photography and in the usual photography. This picture is absolutely the best one of its kind that the writer has ever seen."

YOUTH 'WAS CRIMINAL BECAUSE HE COULD NOT HELP IT'

Los Angeles, Aug. 6.—(UP)—The youth who "was a criminal because he couldn't help it," William Sherill, 22, Denver, today was on probation until Aug. 12 to allow him to recover from an operation which physicians declared would rid him of his criminal tendencies.

The operation, performed with permission of the court, was designed to remove an unnatural pressure on Sherill's brain, which, it was said, led him to criminal acts.

Dr. Cecil Reynolds, who directed the operation, declared the operation was a success. He said he believed Sherill was cured of his tendency to steal.

BOTH LEGS ARE SEVERED AT KNEE; EXPECTED TO LIVE

Dayton, O., Aug. 6.—(UP)—Physicians today believe George L. Uplyke, 38, will live although both legs were severed below the knees in an unusual accident. He was struck by an automobile, hurled onto railroad tracks and lost consciousness. A passenger train severed both legs.

He was brought to this city and an operation performed from which he is expected to live.

FALL FLOWER SHOW SET FOR AUG. 13, 14

Crow Wing Garden and Flower Society Meet Last Night to Arrange Details

GREAT SHOW PLANNED

Bulbs Will be Donated by Growers for Prizes; Solicit Funds for Equipment

The Crow Wing County Flower and Garden society last evening set the dates of the fall garden exhibition for August 23 and 24.

The show promises to be the best ever put on in the county and will be held at the court house. Gladioli, dahlias and other flowers in bloom will be exhibited.

Bulbs donated by growers throughout the state will be given as prizes. The society plan to solicit for funds to purchase equipment such as bottles, tables for the fall shows and other shows to come instead of borrowing the equipment from churches.

STEAMSHIP LINE OFFICIALS, NOT U. S. TO BLAME

Washington, Aug. 6.—(UP)—State department investigation has disclosed that steamship line officials, not the United States government, prevented Miss Luiga Vanzetti, sister of the condemned radical, sailing from France Thursday in time to see her brother before he is executed.

Holland-American steamship line officials refused to accept Miss Vanzetti on the steamer Volendam, sailing from Boulogne-Sur-Mer, despite assurance of American Vice-Consul "Billy" Corcoran that her visa was valid, according to an official report received today.

Labor department officials also endeavored to aid the visit by ordering her passage through Ellis island expedited, it was stated. The passport was obtained in proper form from American officials at Turin, Italy, near the Vanzetti home.

Officials expressed hope that Miss Luiga, who was identified in dispatches as Miss Vincenza, would be able to reach this country before the execution, but this was believed doubtful, even if she is able to leave France today.

COL. LINDBERGH AT CINCINNATI

Cincinnati, O., Aug. 6.—(UP)—Col. Charles A. Lindbergh arrived here at 1:50 p. m. today from Dayton.

He circled the city several minutes before landing at Lunken airport. A huge crowd greeted the flier on his arrival.

Preacher Dismissed; Denied Physical Resurrection of Christ

Nashville, Tenn., Aug. 6.—(UP)—The Rev. W. H. Hearn, 32, instructor at Soochow university, Soochow, China, has been dismissed from the missionary service of the Methodist Episcopal church, south, because he denies the physical resurrection of Christ, it was learned here today.

A special committee of the board of missions voted Hearn's dismissal on the recommendation of Bishop W. N. Ainsworth, Macon, Ga.

SECOND ENTRY IN DOLE PRIZE HONOLULU FLIGHT

Phillips Field, Bartlesville, Okla., Aug. 6.—(UP)—Piloting the monoplane "Woolroc," second Oklahoma entry in the Dole prize Honolulu flight, Art Goebel, California stunt flyer, today was winging westward in an attempted thirteen-hour non-stop test flight to San Francisco.

Goebel hopped off at 7:03 a. m., hoping to reach the Bay City by around 8 p. m. central standard time.

PROCESS SERVER TIES UP PLANE OF CHARLES A. LEVINE

Paris, Aug. 6.—(UP)—A process server went to Le Bourget field today to arrange formalities incidental to attachment of the transatlantic monoplane Columbia which is the property of Charles A. Levine.

Attorneys for Maurice Drouhin, pilot engaged by Levine for a proposed flight from Paris to New York, told the United Press that the attachment of the plane and all its parts would be in behalf of Drouhin as a guarantee of the execution of Levine's contract with the pilot.

The attachment was to take place Monday, the United Press was informed. Drouhin's lawyer said this might be the first step to a suit against Levine. It was emphasized that the legal action was not taken to prevent the flight but that Drouhin was making every effort to hasten the departure.

The final contract between Levine and Drouhin has not yet been signed.

SMALL FIRE AT SHOPS

Damage Reported When Flames Start in Rubbish in New Airbrake Shop

The N. P. shop reported a small fire in rubbish in the new airbrake shop which was extinguished at 2 o'clock this morning with no damage.

The local fire department was called to the home of Andrew Englund, 614 South 7th street, using a chemical to extinguish a fire in a car in the garage early this morning.

The presentation was thoroughly enjoyed by all who acclaimed the company to be the best stock company to have visited Brainerd this season.

Tonight the company will present "The Girl He Married," a comedy sensation while tomorrow evening the artists will appear in "The Old Grouch," another feature comedy.

SEEK TO SOLVE MURDER OF MOTHER OF THREE CHILDREN

New York, Aug. 6.—(UP)—Defeated thus far in pursuit of every meager clue, detectives attempting to solve the murder of Mrs. Emma Weigand, mother of three children, today set out to question friends of the slain woman. Mrs. Weigand, 39, was shot and killed yesterday in the women's room of the city hall station of the Brooklyn-Manhattan Transit Company subway.

Hope that someone beside the assailant and the victim had heard the two pistol shots which came at a time when mid-day trains were thundering through the tube faded when no one came forward during the night.

Apparently the murderer escaped unnoticed after the roar of subway cars had drowned the crack of gun reports. Although a group of girls said they had seen a tall, thin man rush down the platform and up the steps leading to the Woolworth building, detectives were disinclined to attach weight to their testimony.

TWO GERMANS TO ESSAY NON-STOP FLIGHT TO U. S.

Dessau, Germany, Aug. 6.—(UP)—Wireless apparatus was being installed today in two Junker airplanes preparatory to a dual attempt to journey from Germany across the Atlantic ocean to the United States in a non-stop flight.

The wireless, it was said here, would be only for the purpose of receiving weather reports while en route.

This country still was celebrating the establishment of a new endurance record of 52 hours and 25 minutes by Aviators Risties and Edvard in a Junker plane which will be one of the trans-Atlantic pair when the announcement was made.

The postal authorities' announcement said the flight would not begin before Monday.

HOME OF MAYOR OF BALTIMORE BOMBED TODAY

Baltimore, Md., Aug. 6.—(UP)—The home of Mayor William F. Broening here was bombed at 6 A. M. today. The rear porch was demolished and caught fire and all windows for a block around were broken, but the mayor's wife and two children in the house were uninjured. The mayor was making a trip to Cincinnati.

Police believe a time bomb was set under the Broening porch at 2 A. M. at that hour, William Broening, the mayor's son, sleeping in a rear bedroom, was awakened by noises in the back yard.

A neighbor's dog growled, raced across to the Broening yard and began scratching and gnawing at the porch lattice-work. Young Broening called police who investigated to no avail.

At 6 A. M. the blast came, tossing Broening in his bed. He saw flames through the window. He ran to the front of the house, arousing his mother and his sister, Katherine, Ethel. Together they ran, in flimsy clothes, to a neighbor's.

Another neighbor called the fire department. The blaze was extinguished with little damage except to the porch.

Philadelphia, Aug. 6.—A bomb exploded in the basement of the Emanuel Presbyterian church shortly after midnight today, severely damaging the building.

The stained glass windows were shattered, doors torn from their hinges, and the interior blackened.

The windows in a passing street car were broken by the detonation and flying glass injured several passengers who were taken to the Presbyterian hospital.

Windows in surrounding homes were also shattered.

Neighbors said they heard several pistol shots before the blast.

Detectives found a second unexploded bomb made of nitroglycerin, with a detonation cap set. Police had no clues early today.

N. P. BUILDS NEW AIRBRAKE SHOP

New Structure, Rebuilt of Brick, to be 50 by 30 Feet; 30 Feet High

DISMANTLE OLD POWER PLANT
Old Airbrake Shop to be Razed as Soon as Building is Completed

A new airbrake shop is being built at the Northern Pacific railway shops plant. The structure practically rebuilt of brick measures 50 feet in length, 30 feet in width and 30 feet to the peak of the roof. It occupies the site of the old power plant which has been dismantled and material, where acceptable, used in the construction in the new building. This necessitated removal of the elevated track for coal and other things necessary for the old power plant but of no use in the airbrake shop.

The old airbrake shop is a wooden building near the office which will be razed as soon as a new and more commodious building is completed.

BOOK FIGHT PICTURES

Local Fans Will be Given Chance to Judge Dempsey at Tyson, Aug. 12 and 15

Brainerd fight fans will have an opportunity August 14 and 15 of seeing for themselves the pictures of the Dempsey-Sharkey fight and determining whether or not Dempsey fouled the Lithuanian.

W. R. Hiller, manager of local F. and R. theatres was in receipt of the following letter today from the booking office of the F. and R. theatres at Minneapolis:

"We have booked the pictures of the Dempsey-Sharkey fight for your use at the Lyceum theatre, August 14 and 15. They are two reels in length and show the fight very clearly. The knock-out blows are on slow motion photography and in the usual photography. This picture is absolutely the best one of its kind that the writer has ever seen."

YOUTH 'WAS CRIMINAL BECAUSE HE COULD NOT HELP IT'

Los Angeles, Aug. 6.—(UP)—The youth who "was a criminal because he couldn't help it," William Sherrill, 22, Denver, today was on probation until Aug. 12 to allow him to recover from an operation which physicians declared would rid him of his criminal tendencies.

The operation, performed with permission of the court, was designed to remove an unnatural pressure on Sherrill's brain, which, it was said, led him to criminal acts.

Dr. Cecil Reynolds, who directed the operation, declared the operation was a success. He said he believed Sherrill was cured of his tendency to steal.

BOTH LEGS ARE SEVERED AT KNEE; EXPECTED TO LIVE

Dayton, O., Aug. 6.—(UP)—Physicians today believe George L. Updyke, 38, will live although both legs were severed below the knees in an unusual accident. He was struck by an automobile, hurled onto railroad tracks and lost consciousness. A passenger train severed both legs.

He was brought to this city and an operation performed from which he is said to have recovered with his wife telling her what had happened.

FALL FLOWER SHOW SET FOR AUG. 13, 14

Crow Wing Garden and Flower Society Meet Last Night to Arrange Details

GREAT SHOW PLANNED

Bulbs Will be Donated by Growers for Prizes; Solicit Funds for Equipment

The Crow Wing County Flower and Garden society last evening set the dates of the fall garden exhibition for August 23 and 24.

The show promises to be the best ever put on in the county and will be held at the court house. Gladioli, dahlias and other flowers in bloom will be exhibited.

Bulbs donated by growers throughout the state will be given as prizes. The society plan to solicit for funds to purchase equipment such as bottles, tables for the fall shows and other shows to come instead of borrowing the equipment from churches.

STEAMSHIP LINE OFFICIALS, NOT U. S. TO BLAME

Washington, Aug. 6.—(UP)—State department investigation has disclosed that steamship line officials not the United States government, prevented Miss Luisa Vanzetti, sister of the condemned radical, sailing from France Thursday in time to see her brother before he is executed.

Holland-American steamship line officials refused to accept Miss Vanzetti on the steamer Vollandam, sailing from Boulogne-Sur-Mer, despite assurance of American Vice-Consul "Billy" Corcoran that her visa was valid, according to an official report received today.

Labor department officials also endeavored to aid the visit by ordering her passage through Ellis Island expedited, it was stated. The passport was obtained in proper form from American officials at Turin, Italy, near the Vanzetti home.

Officials expressed hope that Miss Luisa, who was identified in dispatches as Miss Vincenza, would be able to reach this country before the execution, but this was believed doubtful, even if she is able to leave France today.

C. L. LINDBERGH AT CINCINNATI

Cincinnati, O., Aug. 6.—(UP)—Col. Charles A. Lindbergh arrived here at 1:50 p. m. today from Dayton.

He circled the city several minutes before landing at Lunken airport. A huge crowd greeted the flier on his arrival.

Preacher Dismissed; Denied Physical Resurrection of Christ

Nashville, Tenn., Aug. 6.—(UP)—The Rev. W. H. Hearn, 32, instructor at Soochow university, Soochow, China, has been dismissed from the missionary service of the Methodist Episcopal church, south, because he denies the physical resurrection of Christ, it was learned here today.

A special committee of the board of missions voted Hearn's dismissal on the recommendation of Bishop W. N. Ainsworth, Macon, Ga.

SECOND ENTRY IN DOLE PRIZE HONOLULU FLIGHT

Phillips Field, Bartlesville, Okla., Aug. 6.—(UP)—Piloting the monoplane "Woolroc," second Oklahoma entry in the Dole prize Honolulu flight, Art Goebel, California stunt flyer, today was winging westward in an attempted thirteen-hour non-stop test flight to San Francisco.

Goebel hopped off at 7:03 a. m., hoping to reach the Bay City by around 8 p. m. central standard time.

PROCESS SERVER TIES UP PLANE OF CHARLES A. LEVINE

Paris, Aug. 6.—(UP)—A process server went to Le Bourget field today to arrange formalities incidental to attachment of the transatlantic monoplane Columbia which is the property of Charles A. Levine.

Attorneys for Maurice Drouhin, pilot engaged by Levine for a proposed flight from Paris to New York, told the United Press that the attachment of the plane and all its parts would be in behalf of Drouhin as a guarantee of the execution of Levine's contract with the pilot.

The attachment was to take place Monday, the United Press was informed. Drouhin's lawyer said this might be the first step to a suit against Levine. It was emphasized that the legal action was not taken to prevent the flight but that Drouhin was making every effort to hasten the departure.

The final contract between Levine and Drouhin has not yet been signed.

SMALL FIRE AT SHOPS

Damage Reported When Flames Start in Rubbish in New Airbrake Shop

The N. P. shop reported a small fire in rubbish in the new airbrake shop which was extinguished at 2 o'clock this morning with no damage.

The local fire department was called to the home of Andrew Englund, 614 South 7th street, using a chemical to extinguish a fire in a car in the garage early this morning.

DIXIE RAMBLES TO PLAY

Doc (Jelly Roll) Jones and His Musicians at Lum Park August 18

The entertainment committee of the U. C. T. announces the appearance of the sensational dance orchestra, Doc (Jelly Roll) Jones and his Dixie Ramblers, at Lum Park, Thursday evening, August 18.

The orchestra is composed of nine black kings that give music that is billed as "will as the wind."

This dance will be known as college night and the U. C. T. promise music that is "hotter than hot."

STOCK COMPANY MEETS SUCCESS

Packed Houses Attend Presentations of Obrecht Stock Co., in Big Tent

GIVE GOOD PERFORMANCES

Will Present "The Girl He Married," Tonight and "The Old Grouch" Tomorrow

The Obrecht Stock Company last evening presented "Broken Toys," a feature dramatic production at their big tent on the corner of 7th and Norwood streets last evening to a packed house.

The presentation was thoroughly enjoyed by all who acclaimed the company to be the best stock company to have visited Brainerd this season.

Tonight the company will present "The Girl He Married," a comedy sensation while tomorrow evening the artists will appear in "The Old Grouch," another feature comedy.

SEEK TO SOLVE MURDER OF MOTHER OF THREE CHILDREN

New York, Aug. 6.—(UP)—Defeated thus far in pursuit of every meager clue, detectives attempting to solve the murder of Mrs. Emma Weigand, mother of three children, today set out to question friends of the slain woman. Mrs. Weigand, 39, was shot and killed yesterday in the women's room of the city hall station of the Brooklyn-Manhattan Transit Company subway.

Hope that someone beside the assailant and the victim had heard the two pistol shots which came at a time when mid-day trains were thundering through the tube faded when no one came forward during the night.

Apparently the murderer escaped unnoticed after the roar of subway cars had drowned the crack of gun reports. Although a group of girls said they had seen a tall, thin man rush down the platform and up the steps leading to the Woolworth building, detectives were disinclined to attach weight to their testimony.

TWO GERMANS TO ESSAY NON-STOP FLIGHT TO U. S.

Dessau, Germany, Aug. 6.—(UP)—Wireless apparatus was being installed today in two Junker airplanes preparatory to a dual attempt to journey from Germany across the Atlantic ocean to the United States in a non-stop flight.

The wireless, it was said here, would be only for the purpose of receiving weather reports while en route.

This country still was celebrating the establishment of a new endurance record of 52 hours and 25 minutes by Aviators Ristetz and Edzard in a Junker plane which will be one of the trans-Atlantic pair when the announcement was made.

The postal authorities' announcement said the flight would not begin before Monday.

What Every Girl Should Know

by GISA PRUCHONE

Copyright, 1927, Warner Bros. Pictures, Inc.
 "WHAT EVERY GIRL SHOULD KNOW," with Patsy Ruth Miller, is a Warner Bros. picturization of this novel.

SYNOPSIS

Mary "Elaine" Sullivan—stender, beautiful, red-headed—is an orphan. Wally Mason, a young reporter, loves Mary. But she disbelieves in love. Mary's elder brother, David, is sentenced to prison for an auto fatality. The Charity Department takes Bobby, the younger, Mary gets a job in a night club. It is raided. Mary, judged to have criminal influence, is sentenced to a reform school. She runs away to visit Bobby, who is ill. Arthur Graham, rich young man involved in David's conviction, intervenes in Mary's behalf. He invites her to live at his home.

"And so he will, Mary. There is a very delightful room in the second story of the house which a small boy like Robert will probably like. It leads into an old elm that has stood on the spot for ages. The house was almost built around it, and the window opens up into the tree."

"Hl, hl," chorled Robert. "I shall get astride my charger and gallop, gallop like this!" He rose on his knees and in his blue striped pajamas showed Mary and Arthur how he would gallop, were he on his favorite charger.

"Well," asked Arthur Graham, coming to her and taking her hand. "Is it settled, then?"

He was so good. But what to do? She clasped her hands and her eyes pleaded with him.

"I can't, Mr. Graham. I can't."

"Why not, Mary?" He was a bit impatient.

"Your mother—" The grandness of Mrs. Mollie Graham had trickled through into even Mary's heedless young head.

"My mother's wishes are mine, Mary. I ask you to come in the name of the Grammas," with a flourish.

The luxury of it—Mary Sullivan having breakfast in bed.

ish. "Which includes B. Jasper. They're both good sorts, Mary. You'll get on splendidly."

To the indecision that wavered in her eyes, he resumed, "Where shall you go when you leave here, do you know?"

"There's Mrs. Tomlinson," and the mental picture of that good soul flashed into view.

"A woman with a family of her own, doubtlessly. Am I right?"

"Well—yes."

"And who else?"

"There's—Wally." There was Wally, of course. There was always Wally. He had been tucked into a crevice in her mind from which she removed him at will. He had offered her—various things, had Wally. Including help when she needed it. There was Wally.

"Who is Wally?" from Graham.

"He—" It was strangely difficult to speak of him. "He—he's a reporter for the Herald."

"Money?" Arthur continued his questioning.

"Well—no—I don't think so."

"Then how will he help?" triumphantly. "Why be a burden, my dear, when it is so much simpler to be a pleasure?"

And what was there to do? Arthur carried his point in great satisfaction, and with a few other careless gestures it was all arranged. Mary was to remain at the asylum until Bob was well enough to be moved, when both would be transferred to the Graham home, perched atop Garden City's loveliest bit of rolling verdure, transferred in Arthur's massive car, the car he had bought when a most truck driven by Sullivan, Driver 37, had careened into and crushed the long-nosed tan roadster with the bronze winged Victory.

Mary, transferred to the Graham home atop the gentle hill. Mary in the closest proximity to the charm that lay in Arthur's eyes in his rare moments of geniality.

CHAPTER XIII

The sudden dropping of Mollie Summer Graham's jaw at the receipt of the news amused her son. It must be admitted that he had anticipated the moment of its telling with a keen relish that was foreign to his nature, heretofore.

Ancients' Good Fortune

Archeology is always turning up ancient civilizations and pointing out their likeness to the one we are at present enjoying as well as we can. But we have never heard that the excavators have found a clay tablet containing the words and music of a "popular song." Some things the ancients were spared—Youth's Companion.

Inside or Out?

"I would be glad," said the clergyman, after he had given out the text for his sermon, "if the young man who is standing outside the door would come in and make absolutely certain whether she is here tonight or not. That would be a great deal better than opening the door half an inch or so and thereby exposing the necks of the people in the back row to a current of cold air."

FOREST HILLS SCHEDULES BIG TENNIS CHAMPIONSHIPS FOR THIS SUMMER

Many Great Players From Overseas Will Compete at Famous Long Island Courts Where Dust Has Been Outlawed—Betty Nuthall Expected.

FOREST HILLS, Long Island, with its beautiful tennis stadium will again be the scene of stirring tournaments this summer, with considerable amount of the limelight focussed on women players.

The Wightman Cup matches of 1927, which decide the women's team championship between this country and England has been scheduled for August 12 and 13 by the International Play Committee of the U. S. Lawn Tennis Association.

Since 1923 this is the third time this feature has been on the lists of the West Side Tennis Club at Forest Hills, Wimbledon was given the honor in 1924 and last year.

Among the American candidates are Miss Helen Wills, Mrs. George W. Wightman, Mrs. Mollie B. Malory, Miss Elizabeth Ryan, Mrs. Marion Z. Jessup, Miss Eleanor Goss, Miss Martha Bayard, Mrs. A. H. Chapin, Jr., Mrs. J. D. Corbiere, Miss Margaret Blake, Miss Penelope Anderson and Miss Helen Jacobs.

The English nominees will be unusually strong this year, led in all probability by the brilliant Miss Betty Nuthall, who beat Mrs. Malory so handily in June though the English girl is only sixteen and was still in pinafores when Mrs. Malory won her first championship. Mrs. Kitty McKane Godfrey, Miss Joan Fray and Miss Evelyn Colyer.

Then will follow the women's national championships, scheduled for August 22 and played as usual at the Long Island stadium.

Finally the season will wind up in glory with the men's national championships from September 13 to 17, which promises to be the most exciting of years.

So the tennis fans are likely to see some good sport this year on the fast Forest Hills grounds, considered by many spectators the nearest to ideal in the United States.

It is the only tennis stadium in the world that is built of concrete and has accommodations for 13,000 spectators. This enclosure, approximately an oval, is 145 feet in width and 195 feet in length, with space for three courts and ample room around them.

For the comfort of the fans, as well as the players, hardly a speck of dust is allowed to float into the atmosphere. The grounds are rolled, manicured constantly and any loose earth is treated with calcium chloride to keep it from flying about.

This material is also used on the championship clay court to lay the dust and give a fast resilient surface for championship play.

What Every Girl Should Know

by GISA PRUCHONE

Copyright, 1927, Warner Bros. Pictures, Inc.
"WHAT EVERY GIRL SHOULD KNOW," with Patsy Ruth Miller, is a Warner Bros. picture of this novel.

SYNOPSIS

Mary "Elaine" Sullivan—slender, beautiful, red-headed—is an orphan. Wally Mason, a young reporter, loves Mary. But she disbelieves in love. Mary's elder brother, David, is sentenced to prison for an auto fatality. The Charity Department takes Bobby, the younger. Mary gets a job in a night club. It is raided. Mary, judged to have criminal influences, is sentenced to a reform school. She runs away to visit Bobby, who is ill. Arthur Graham, rich young man involved in David's conviction, intervenes in Mary's behalf. He invites her to live at his home.

"And so he will, Mary. There is a very delightful room in the second story of the house which a small boy like Robert will probably like. It leads into an old elm that has stood on the spot for ages. The house was almost built around it, and the window opens up into the tree."

"Hi, hi," chorled Robert. "I shall get astride my charger and gallop, gallop like this!" He rose on his knees and in his blue striped pajamas showed Mary and Arthur how he would gallop, were he on his favorite charger.

"Well," asked Arthur Graham, coming to her and taking her hand. "Is it settled, then?"

"He was so good. But what to do? She clasped her hands and her eyes pleaded with him.

"I can't, Mr. Graham. I can't."

"Why not, Mary?" He was a bit impatient.

"Your mother—" The grandness of Mrs. Mollie Graham had trickled through into even Mary's heedless young head.

"My mother's wishes are mine. I ask you to come in the name of the Grahams," with a flourish.

The luxury of it—Mary Sullivan having breakfast in bed.

ish. "Which includes B. Jasper. They're both good sorts, Mary. You'll get on splendidly."

To the indecision that wavered in her eyes, he resumed, "Where shall you go when you leave here, do you know?"

"There's Mrs. Tomlinson," and the mental picture of that good soul flashed into view.

"A woman with a family of her own, doubtless. Am I right?"

"Well—yes."

"And who else?"

"There's—Wally." There was Wally, of course. There was always Wally. He had been tucked into a crevice in her mind from which she removed him at will. He had offered her—various things, had Wally. Including help when she needed it. There was Wally.

"Who is Wally?" from Graham.

"He—" It was strangely difficult to speak of him. "He—he's a reporter for the Herald."

"Money?" Arthur continued his questioning.

"Well—no—I don't think so."

"Then how will he help?" triumphantly. "Why be a burden, my dear, when it is so much simpler to be a pleasure?"

And what was there to do? Arthur carried his point in great satisfaction, and with a few other careless gestures it was all arranged. Mary was to remain at the asylum until Bob was well enough to be moved, when both would be transferred to the Graham home, perched atop Garden City's loveliest bit of rolling verdure, transferred in Arthur's massive car, the car he had bought when a meat truck driven by Sullivan, Driver 37, had careened into and crushed the long-nosed tan roadster with the bronze-winged Victory.

Mary, transferred to the Graham home atop the gentle hill. Mary in the closest proximity to the charm that lay in Arthur's eyes in his rare moments of geniality—

CHAPTER XIII

The sudden dropping of Mollie Sumner Graham's jaw at the receipt of the news amused her son. It must be admitted that he had anticipated the moment of its telling with a keen relish that was foreign to his nature, heretofore.

Ancients' Good Fortune

Archaeology is always turning up ancient civilizations and pointing out their likeness to the one we are at present enjoying as well as we can. But we have never heard that the excavators have found a clay tablet containing the words and music of a "popular song." Some things the ancients were spared.—Youth's Companion.

Inside or Out?

"I would be glad," said the clergyman, after he had given out the text for his sermon, "if the young man who is standing outside the door would come in and make absolutely certain whether she is here tonight or not. That would be a great deal better than opening the door half an inch or so and thereby exposing the necks of the people in the back row to a current of cold air."

FOREST HILLS SCHEDULES BIG TENNIS CHAMPIONSHIPS FOR THIS SUMMER

Many Great Players From Overseas Will Compete at Famous Long Island Courts Where Dust Has Been Outlawed—Betty Nuthall Expected.

FOREST HILLS, Long Island, with its beautiful tennis stadium will again be the scene of stirring tournaments this summer, with considerable amount of the limelight focussed on women players.

The Wightman Cup matches of 1927, which decide the women's team championship between this country and England has been scheduled for August 12 and 13 by the International Play Committee of the U. S. Lawn Tennis Association.

Since 1923 this is the third time this feature has been on the lists of the West Side Tennis Club at Forest Hills. Wimbledon was given the honor in 1924 and last year.

Among the American candidates are Miss Helen Wills, Mrs. George W. Wightman, Mrs. Molla B. Mallory, Miss Elizabeth Ryan, Mrs. Marion Z. Jessup, Miss Eleanor Goss, Miss Martha Bayard, Mrs. A. H. Chapin, Jr., Mrs. J. D. Corbiere, Miss Margaret Blake, Miss Penelope Anderson and Miss Helen Jacobs.

The English nominees will be unusually strong this year, led in all probability by the brilliant Miss Betty Nuthall, who beat Mrs. Mallory so handsily in June though the English girl is only sixteen and was still in pinafores when Mrs. Mallory won her first championship.

It is the only tennis stadium in the world that is built of concrete and has accommodations for 13,000 spectators. This enclosure, approximately an oval, is 145 feet in width and 195 feet in length, with space for three courts and ample room around them.

For the comfort of the fans, as well as the players, hardly a speck of dust is allowed to float into the atmosphere. The grounds are rolled, manicured constantly and any loose earth is treated with calcium chloride to keep it from flying about.

This material is also used on the championship clay court to lay the dust and give a fast resilient surface for championship play.
